Dear Mr. Barron,
I have lived on Killion St. for forty years and over these many years I have enjoyed this beautiful historical home at 14535 Killion St. It has such a wonderful history being the most outstanding home of Bliss Park. So few of these homes remain. It's a tragedy. I'm so pleased that Corky's will be preserved. I hope that this home, representing the beginnings of Van Nuys, will also be recognized for its importance.
I've worked with children in my home and invariably a parent will ask, tell me about that beautiful home at the end of the block. Please drive by yourself and enjoy its beauty. It truly looks like it belongs where it has been for many decades.
Sincerely,

Dear Mr. Barron:

There is a beautiful Spanish style home on Killion Street in Sherman Oaks which must be saved. It has so much historical value to the establishment of the Sherman Oaks/ Van Nuys areas.

The over development in the area where the house is located is astounding. The government wanted to ease up on permits and zoning in order to have more affordable housing. Tearing down that beautiful home with so much history does not meet that goal. In fact the developer simply builds ugly buildings with no historical relevance and further “lines his pockets”. As a neighborhood we have wondered how the developers have managed to get away with so much....
Our neighborhood is not Beverly Hills, Bel Air, or South of the Blvd., but it is an established neighborhood with a deep history. That house is a significant part of that history. We cannot keep tearing down what’s historical and call it progress. As someone who was born in London, I can say with the utmost certainty that the ravaging of historical buildings would not be allowed and there would be no need to go through the turmoil and heart break of fighting to keep the building.

The developer could easily leave the house and build an ADU in the back so he could still make money.

Please, please preserve this beautiful home located at 14535 Killion St.

Thank you for your consideration.

Good morning President Richard Barron:

It has come to our attention the above-mentioned structure - which we find to be a very unique and beautiful home - may be demolished!

We would like to nominate this as a historical building.

Furthermore we are writing you in the hopes that you could do whatever in your power to please save this much loved building from being torn down.

Apparently this structure represents the history of Van Nuys/Sherman Oaks and is a wonderful monument to the hard-working people who founded these cities.

Thank you so much in advance for your attention to this matter and for caring alongside us and our neighborhood.

Dear Mr. Richard Barron,

I would ask you to consider 14535 Killion St. for Historical status. There are so many older elegant homes being torn down that the history and beauty of our town is being forgotten and unavailable to our citizens to remember the beginnings of the area. The people that started this valleys building and founding of the cities deserved to be remembered. That the Whitsett, Lankershim and Van Nuys families were so important to the valley culture is hard to overstate.

Please keep my suggestion in mind when making your decision.

Mr. Barron,
I wanted to express my great interest in the status of the Spanish-style house at 14535 Killion Street in Sherman Oaks. I understand it's been nominated as a cultural heritage landmark, and I do hope it succeeds. This house is in my neighborhood, which is gradually getting turned over to multi-unit houses and "mcmansions" that fill the whole of the plots they're built on.
We need to keep our few remaining historical buildings and try to maintain some sense of history in the Valley and in fact all of greater Los Angeles. There are plenty of empty lots and abandoned buildings that can be used for multi-unit housing; please let us not lose this beautiful little piece of Van Nuys history.

Southern California seems to have had difficulty saving specimens of it's past. Here is a chance. Dear Mr. Richard Barron,

I would ask you to consider 14535 Killion St. for Historical status. There are so many older elegant homes being torn down that the history and beauty of our town is being forgotten and unavailable to our citizens to remember the beginnings of the area. The people that started this valleys building and founding of the cities deserved to be remembered. That the Whitsett, Lankershim and Van Nuys families were so important to the valley culture is hard to overstate.

Please keep my suggestion in mind when making your decision.

Thank you,

Paul Moshay

Mr Barron
I owned the home from 2004-2014 and loved the house. We added the new garage and back patio with the French doors.
I down sized to a smaller home that i just found out has historical designation in the Girard Tract.
Please use my name Sydney Field to save the home from demolition
It's one of a kind.

My friend lived in the house for about 10 years and added the garage and second floor above it. It's a beautiful house and needs to be saved just because it's so rare. The City has plenty of "new" stuff.

Thanks for reading this,

Nomination of Killion St. House in Sherman Oaks

Mr. Barron,
I wanted to express my great interest in the status of the Spanish-style house at 14535 Killion Street in Sherman Oaks. I understand it's been nominated as a cultural heritage landmark, and I do hope it succeeds. This house is in my neighborhood, which is gradually getting turned over to multi-unit houses and "mcmansions" that fill the whole of the plots they're built on.
We need to keep our few remaining historical buildings and try to maintain some sense of history in the Valley and in fact all of greater Los Angeles. There are plenty of empty lots and abandoned buildings that can be used for multi-unit housing; please let us not lose this beautiful little piece of Van Nuys history.

I hand carried this petition to every home on our 3 blocks of Killion St. and some homes on Albers St. It took over 3 hours. Every person that saw the petition gladly signed it. All of the neighbors are in support of the historic nomination. They have always admired the Hatterschied Home and it is much loved in the neighborhood. It is the architectural gem of Killion St.
