Dear Cultural Heritage Commission,

I hope this email finds you well.

I'm writing in the reference to that I urgently need your valuable support and reply on the issue of the designation of the LA Hung Sa Dahn building as a historical site.

I sent you an official letter in the fastest way, but it's expected to take about 1 month due to the Covid-19 situation.

So, I send you this email before it reaches to you. Please check the attached file.

Your reply will be very welcomed and valuable to our situation.

I look forward to hearing from you very soon.

Sincerely,

Bae, Hyun Jin

Urgent Letter to Cultural heritage Commission.pdf

Bae, Hyun Jin
Member of the Republic of Korea National Assembly

Dear Director Melissa Jones,

I would first like to express my appreciation to you for your devotion to the peace and prosperity of Los Angeles and the US. The ROK and the US are brothers bonded by the trials and tribulations of the Korean War. The US stood by the ROK to the end despite the sacrifices of countless American soldiers. Not only that, the US provided food assistance to starving Koreans after the war and has since then helped protect the ROK as a reliable ally. It's no exaggeration to say that the US made the economic prosperity and impressive growth of the ROK possible. Let me express my sincere gratitude once again.

I am writing today about the preservation of the Hung Sa Dahn building in LA. It is an important edifice of Korea's cultural heritage. From 1910 to 1945, the Koreans suffered terribly under brutal Japanese rule. During that time, at least 3 million Koreans fought for national independence, and many of them died in anonymity. The independence movement was active not only in Korea but also in the US, and Hung Sa Dahn was at the center of the effort in the US. Established in 1913 in the US by Ahn Chang-ho, an independence fighter widely known as Dosan, the Hung Sa Dahn worked extremely hard for independence by training young people who would carry on the independence movement, protecting Korean compatriots living in the US, and by other such means. For this reason, the old Hung Sa Dahn building on Catalina Street, which housed the Hung Sa Dahn headquarters from 1932 to 1978, is of great historical value.

As you are aware, the building is under threat of demolition. A development company owned by an American of Chinese descent has obtained a demolition permit from the City of Los Angeles and plans to remove the building and build an apartment building in its place. A hearing was held this past July 15 to discuss the designation of the building as a historic landmark. It attracted a great deal of attention. A second hearing was proposed with the unanimity of all city council members.

The Hung Sa Dahn building is still a vivid reminder of Korea's sad history and yearning for national independence, and it would be an important property of historical heritage for future generations of both Korean-Americans and LA citizens. I hereby plead for your support for the designation of the Hung Sa Dahn building on Catalina Street as a historic landmark. Also, your reply to this letter would be of great help to us.

I look forward to your reply.

Sincerely yours,

Bae, Hyun Jin

Dear Cultural Heritage Commission:

My name is Emily Sohn and I urge you to approve Hung Sa Dahn Building as Historic-cultural Monument.

Please approve this nomination in order to save the important Korean American landmark.

This is an important opportunity to preserve an accurate account of our community's presence, history and significance in Los Angeles.

Thank you.

Sincerely,

Emily Sohn.

Hello Cultural Heritage Commission and Councilmember Marqueece Harris-Dawson:

I am writing to you today in support of Hung Sa Dahn's Historical-Cultural Monument designation application.

As a native Angeleno, I feel we often take our diverse cultural melting pot for granted. It's not lost on me that Hollywood's oldest restaurant, Musso & Frank, is adjacent to Little Armenia, and that Thai Town is just a few more blocks away. While Los Angeles is large, our unique and progressive communities bind us together.

In the United States, Los Angeles has the distinct pleasure of having the largest Korean and Korean-American population. Due in part to the forward thinking of Chang Ho Ahn, a leader in the Korean independence movement, the Young Korean Academy (YKA) was founded, finally settling into its current address in 1936 and has continuously contributed to the cultural and social history of Koreans in Los Angeles.

I urge you to revoke the demolition permit and to grant Historical-Cultural Monument status to Hung Sa Dahn.

I appreciate your consideration.

Kind regards,
Tracey L. Adlai

Hello,

My name is Andrea Rojas and I am writing to urge the Commission to support Hung Sa Dahn as a historic-cultural monument. I am a constituent of CD8 and know how much this property means to the neighborhood but also the Korean American demographic in and around this area. Hung Sa Dahn is a part of Korean American and CD8 history and culture and by supporting the effort you'll be ensuring that this history is not erased.

The property at 3421-3423 South Catalina Street is considered by historians and historic preservationists to be the most significant unprotected Korean American heritage property in Los Angeles.

3421 South Catalina Street has been identified in SurveyLA's Korean American Historic Context Statement as eligible for listing as a local landmark for its association as the longtime headquarters of Hung Sa Dahn, a significant Korean American civic organization in Los Angeles.

The property meets "Historic-Cultural Monument Criteria 1" as it exemplifies significant contributions to the broad cultural, economic, or social history of the nation, state, city, or community. The buildings are extant, intact, and rare examples of early institutional properties associated with Korean American immigration, settlement, and development in Los Angeles.

The property also meets "Historic-Cultural Monument Criteria 2," for its direct association with the life of historic personage, Dosan Ahn Chang Ho, a singularly important figure in Korean American history at the local, state, and national level, and in modern Korean history more broadly. Although Ahn was imprisoned abroad in Korea at the time of Hung Sa Dahn's acquisition of the property in 1936 and died two years later before he could return home to Los Angeles, he and his teachings are integral to the organization's existence over its 108-year history, including its period of significance at 3421-3423 South Catalina Street. Furthermore, the building's acquisition was facilitated through his direct efforts and served as the first and only standalone headquarters of Hung Sa Dahn in Los Angeles.

Thank you.

Re: Case No. CHC-2021-5125-HCM; ENV-2021-5126-CE
Hearing Date: November 4, 2021
Property Address: 3421-3423 South Catalina Street

Dear President Milofsky and Hon. Members of the Cultural Heritage Commission:

As you know, our office represents the new owner of 3421-3423 South Catalina Street (the "Property") in connection with the pending nomination to designate the Property as a Historic-Cultural Monument ("HCM") pursuant to Los Angeles Administrative Code ("LAAC") Section 22.171.10. For the reasons stated herein, and in our prior October 12, 2021 letter, we continue to oppose this nomination which seeks to warp the express language of the HCM criteria, ignores the unsalvageable condition of the existing buildings, and is fraught with inaccurate information regarding the history of the Property, Dosan Ahn Chang Ho, and the Hungsadan.¹

A. After decades of deferred maintenance, any association the Property may have once had with the Hungsadan is no longer extant.

For unclear reasons, both the HCM application and the staff report ignore the critical fact that the buildings are not only in serious disrepair, but have been altered substantially in past years without permits. In fact, the buildings are in such disrepair, that our client's project team estimates that it would cost approximately 1.1 million dollars, just to make them habitable again. (Exhibit A.) The unpermitted alterations to the Property were so poorly constructed, that the property is without question, beyond repair. For instance, the entire single-family residence that was once used as the Hungsadan offices, has since been illegally converted to 6 individual units, which resulted in the chopping-up of the interior of the structure into unrecognizable pieces that leave no connection to how the structure was once used. This work included the construction of new interior walls, the removal and/or relocation of stairwells, the addition of several new kitchens and bathrooms, the enclosure of outdoor patio spaces, and ultimately the destruction of the entire character of the building's interior as it once stood as a single-family home. The same is true with the exterior, which has been subjected to substantial alterations, both permitted and unpermitted. For instance, not only has the façade been altered with a new porch and roofline, but all of the brick cladding and the matching chimney has been removed, nearly all the windows, lights, doors, floors, roofing, design, and landscaping have been replaced, leaving a structure that is nothing more than a shadow of its former self. Anyone who has actually walked through this building in its current condition instantly knows the building cannot be preserved.

B. Multiple existing HCMs and monuments better represent Dosan, the Hungsadan, and the Korean independence movement.

It also is important to recognize that the City and other agencies have already done an excellent job memorializing Dosan Ahn Chang Ho ("Dosan") and his organization, the Hungsadan, with a variety of existing HCMs, monuments and honors. First, it is worth noting that the City's SurveyLA Korean American context explains that the "Korean community coalesced" around "two prominent buildings," the Korean National Association ("KNA") building at 1368 West Jefferson Boulevard (HCM No. 548), and the Korean Presbyterian Church located at 1374 West Jefferson Boulevard. According to SurveyLA, it was the "proximity of these two prominent institutions firmly solidified Jefferson Boulevard as the social center of the Korean community in Los Angeles." (SurveyLA, Pg. 25.) The KNA building has already been designated as an HCM by the City, and the Korean Presbyterian Church has yet to be designated as an HCM, but is still extant and in excellent condition. Both of these buildings are walking distance from the Property.

Other nearby memorials and HCMs similarly acknowledge and better represent the contributions of Dosan, the Hungsadan members, and the Korean community. Just blocks away on the USC campus, Dosan's family home – the Ahn Family House, HCM No. 1059 - is designated as an HCM in connection with Dosan, Dosan's family, and its use as a "gathering place for Korean Americans backing the Korean independence movement." (See Case No. CHC-2013-2415-HCM.) The nearby prominent interchange of Interstate 10 and Interstate 110 has also been named the Dosan Ahn Chang Ho memorial interchange in connection with Dosan's work as a Korean independence activist and community leader. Moreover, the Korean United Methodist Church has also just recently been designated as an HCM, in part for its role as a "cultural hub" and for its pastors involvement in the Korean independence movement. In San Pedro, the Korean Bell and Belfry of Friendship, HCM No. 187, stands as a beautiful symbol of Los Angeles's connection with Korea and the Korean community's involvement with the independence movement. There are other nearby monuments and honors as well, including the Dosan Ahn Chang Ho post office at 6th and Harvard Street, and the "Dosan Ahn Chang Ho Square" located on Jefferson Boulevard near the KNA building;

All of these monuments, and many others not named here, are far better and more appropriate monuments to honor the Korean community, Dosan, and his work on the independence movement through the Hungsadan. To designate this Property, which has never been identified as a site of significance by SurveyLA, Dosan's family, or the Hungsadan itself - and in defiance of his family's wishes - would only water down the monuments the City has already committed itself to preserving. For these reasons, we urge the Commission deny the HCM nomination for this Property. Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,

[Exclusive] Insufficient application data for the Hungsadan Danso Building public hearing 'disgraceful'

While the 2nd public hearing on Hungsadan Danso Historic Site Designation' (CHC-2021-5125-HCM 3421 Catalina Street Application), which is drawing extraordinary attention at home and abroad, is scheduled for November 4, an error in the application for designation of Hunsadan Danso Historic Site. It has been pointed out that there is a controversy brewing between the city of Los Angeles and the family of Dosan over the verification of date, thus the Korean Community, including Hungsadan campaigning for the historic designation are suffering humiliation.

In the case of a historic site application, the most important matter is to provide evidence of "complete historical and cultural facts that prove the values worthy of preservation." The Los Angeles City Cultural Heritage Commission (hereinafter referred to as the Cultural Heritage Commission, LA Department of City Planning) recently received criticism from Dosan's family that "the so-called Hungsadan Danso Historic Site Application submitted to the City of Los Angeles has many errors." The Sunday Journal confirmed on the 25th that verification work was in progress. On September 13, Ken Bernstein, Principal City Planner, Los Angeles City's Urban Planning Division, told Dosan's family "I am sorry to point out that errors have been found in the historic site application. We hope that you will provide the historical data necessary for the application, and the relevant city departments will thoroughly verify the materials already submitted."

Applying for historic sites without prior verification.

Prior to this, Dosan's grandson Flip Cuddy (son of Mrs. Susan Ahn Cuddy), told the Los Angeles City Urban Planning Division, which hosts public hearings on historic sites, "there are many errors in the application. It lacks historical evidence, and the application was written without professional research work, and a detailed verification is required.

Cuddy also point out that there is a problem with the qualifications of the Los Angeles city authorities to designate the Hungsadan Danso Historic Site. He pointed out that it was incorrect to hold a public hearing without finding any errors in the application. Philip Cuddy pointed out one of the mistakes in the application, when teacher "Ahn Chang-ho, passed away in March 1938, a memorial service was held for Dosan at the church next to USC. He pointed out that a photo material was incorrectly described as having been held at the LA City Council Hall in 1938. This information was taken from a book entitled, '100 years of Hungsadan History.' Hungsadan had made a mistake in the historical record. The Hungsadan Danso Historic Site Designation (CHC-2021-5125-HCM 3421 Catalina Street Application) application recently put together in a hurry has a total of 90 pages, including this history of Dosan Ahn Chang-ho's Korean independence movement and Hungsadan's activities that have taken place in America. The process from the purchase to the sale of the Hungsadan Danso, along with related photographic materials, were included. Also attached to this application is an article in the LA Times reporting the death of Dosan Ahn Chang-ho in 1938, along with a report written by Dr. Man-jae cha against the removal of the Hungsadan. As a result of our own analysis of the designation of the Hungsadan Danso Historic Site (CHC-2021-5125-HCM 3421 Catalina Street Application), some inconsistencies were also found. Up to now, the Korean community have understood that Hunsadan Dosan Memorial Foundation of America and KNA Memorial Foundation formed a committee to pursue the purchase of the building from the current owner (Donghao Li), the development company (3423 S. Catalina St. LLC). It has been understood that the first public hearing concerning the application for the Hungsadan Danso as a historical and cultural monument (HCM, Historic Cultural Monument) was successfully completed on July 15.

"Problem of unverified matters in the historical site application documents."

However, I the applicant's signature column for the Hungsadan Danso Historic Site designation' application, neither Hungsadan nor any persons from Hungsadan of the Korean community was shown. The applicants appearing in the application in question are: Michelle Magalong, President, Asian & Pacific Islander Americans in Historic Preservation, Rosiland Sagara, President of the Los Angeles Conservancy, and Katherine Kim, three members in all. Nobody knows if these three people are related to Korean groups perusing the Hungsadan Danso HCM application. The details of how these three people are connected to Danso Purchase Promotion Committee is not known. Also, some point out that the Korean community should have reviewed it with related experts on its own before submitting the application for a historic site. Regarding the Korean community's activism for Hungsadan Danso Historic Site Designation, Philip Cuddy, Dosan's family member, said in an email communication with this newspaper, "[t]he Korean community should have been faithful to historical and theoretical verification in the process of applying for the HCM designation for a building related to Dosan s a historic site. He said, "they should have been more careful about their research work" he said. Meanwhile, the Los Angeles City Council plans to hold two public hearings and decide on the HCM matter after hearing opinions from both sides, and everyone is paying attention to how the current controversy concerning the historical material will impact the outcome.

INTRODUCTION

The Asian & Pacific Islander Americans in Historic Preservation filed a City of Los Angeles (City) Historic-Cultural Monument (HCM) nomination for the subject property, 3421–3423 S. Catalina Street (“Hungsadan”) on June 17, 2021. The HCM nomination was deemed complete by the City of Los Angeles Office of Historic Resources (OHR) and was initially reviewed by the Cultural Heritage Commission (CHC) on June 22, 2021. The CHC accepted the nomination for further consideration and a site visit was conducted by the commission and OHR staff on August 26, 2021. On July 15, 2021, the CHC voted to recommend designation of the subject property as a City HCM.

Sapphos Environmental, Inc. (Ms. Carrie Chasteen) was retained by 3423 S. Catalina Street LLC to conduct a peer review of the HCM nomination. Ms. Chasteen possesses a MS in Historic Preservation, more than 19 years of experience in the field of cultural resource management, meets the Secretary of the Interior’s Professional Qualification Standards in the fields of History and Architectural History, and is included in the City of Los Angeles’ qualified historic preservation consultants list. Sapphos Environmental, Inc. conducted an independent third-party due diligence review of the subject property in 2021.

METHODOLOGY

In order to conduct a peer view of the HCM nomination, Sapphos Environmental, Inc. reviewed the 2018 SurveyLA Los Angeles Citywide Historic Context Statement: Korean Americans in Los Angeles, 1905–1980.¹ Additionally, research was conducted using City Department of Building and Safety permit records. Online research included historic issues of the Los Angeles Times and Los Angeles Sentinel (ProQuest), Sanborn Fire Insurance Maps, and other digital sources.

HISTORIC CONTEXT

The historic context was taken from the 2018 SurveyLA Los Angeles Citywide Historic Context Statement: Korean Americans in Los Angeles, 1905–1980.² The United States became one of the bases for the Korean independence movement in the early to mid-1900s. Three of the movement’s key leaders—Syngman Rhee, Chang Ho Ahn, and Yong-man Pak—spent substantial time in the United States. Chang Ho Ahn, also known by his penname, Dosan, is most associated with Los Angeles. Ahn and his wife, Helen (Heyryon) Lee, first immigrated to San Francisco in 1902 to attend university, where he became instrumental in the establishment of early Korean institutions such as the Friendship Society (1903) in San Francisco. They moved to Riverside, California in 1904, where he worked in the orange groves and taught other Korean immigrants. He also founded the Korean Mutual Assistance Association in Riverside in 1905.

Around 1914, Ahn and his family moved to Los Angeles and settled among the emerging Korean community around downtown. They first lived at 1411 W. Fourth Street and then at 106 N. Figueroa Street by 1917 (neither is extant). Ahn established the Young Korean Academy (also known as the Hungsadan) at the house located on N. Figueroa, dedicated to the promotion of Korean independence and culture in America. The Ahn house became a cultural focal point for the Korean community. Newly arrived Koreans frequented the house, and the family assisted them in acclimating to the city. The Ahn family continued to be prominent figures in the Los Angeles Korean community over the following decades.

Hungsadan

The Young Korean Academy moved from the Ahn house in Bunker Hill to its own address at 3421 S. Catalina Avenue by 1936. The Ahn family moved to a house at McClintock Avenue and 34th Street near the USC campus in 1937. Chang Ho Ahn himself had returned to Asia to support the independence movement and help the provisional government based in China. According to An Pyong Uk's Dosan: The Man and His Thought,

*"Ahn, immediately after the outbreak of the March 1, 1919, independence movement in Korea, Dosan went to Shanghai. The diary recording his activity under the provisional Korean government in exile in Shanghai describes his impressive dedication to the cause of national affairs, while exerting his whole sincerity and zeal in order to bring success to the independence movement. He served the provisional government as director-general of internal affairs and deputy prime minister in succession."*³

He never returned to the United States before his death in 1938. His wife, Helen, and their five children—Philip, Philson, Susan, Soorah, and Ralph—lived at the McClintock Avenue house until 1946, during which it became a gathering place for those supporting the Korean independence movement. The house was then acquired by the University of Southern California (USC) in 1966 and moved to an on-campus location (809 W. 34th Street) in 2004 (City HCM No. 1059).⁴

The subject property was evaluated using the SurveyLA Citywide Historic Context Statement; specifically, the Residential Development and Suburbanization context and Early Residential Development theme, and the Architecture and Engineering context and the Arts and Crafts Movement subtheme.

Area of Significance: Settlement; Community Planning and Development

Criteria: A/1/1

Period of Significance: 1880–1930

Eligibility Standards:

- Dates from the period of significance
- Is a rare surviving example of the type in the neighborhood or community
- Represents a very early period of settlement/residential development in a neighborhood or community

Character-Defining/Associative Features:

- Has an important association with early settlement or residential development within a neighborhood or community
- May also be significant for its association with important early settlers
- May be within an area later subdivided and built out
- Often sited in a prominent location
- Retains most of the essential physical and character-defining features (CDFs) from the period of significance

Integrity Considerations:

- Because of the rarity of the type there may be a greater degree of alterations or fewer extant features
- Should retain integrity of Location, Feeling, Association, and Materials from the period of significance

ARCHITECTURE AND ENGINEERING

Context: Architecture and Engineering

Theme: Arts and Crafts Movement

Sub Theme: Craftsman, 1905–1930

Property Type: Residential – Single-Family and Multi-Family Residence

Associated Property Types: Residential – Single-Family and Multi-Family Residence Institutional – Club Building and Church

Property Type Description: Associated property types are predominately residential buildings but may also include institutional buildings. Most residential buildings are single-family residences such as 2-story houses, and 1½-story bungalows. Multi-family residences mainly include bungalow courts and fourplexes. Institutional buildings were constructed for clubs and churches, but with the same visual qualities of domestic architecture.

Property Type Significance: Resources significant under this subtheme are excellent examples of the Craftsman style of architecture in Los Angeles.

Geographic Location: Several areas in Los Angeles are characterized by their concentrations of Craftsman architecture. The Arroyo Seco area, including the neighborhoods of Garvanza, Highland Park, and Mount Washington, has a high concentration of Craftsman houses. While most other areas of the Los Angeles Basin did not develop Craftsman architecture in response to natural conditions on site, the style is found in many other early-20th-century residential neighborhoods including Hollywood, Echo Park, and West Adams. Craftsman architecture is found less frequently in the Mid-Wilshire area because many of the major examples have been demolished.

Areas of Significance: Architecture

Criteria: C/3/3

Period of Significance: 1905–1930

Eligibility Standards:

- Exemplifies the tenets of the Arts and Crafts movement and the Craftsman style
- Was constructed during the period of significance
- Exhibits quality craftsmanship

Character Defining/Associative Features:

- Retains most of the essential character-defining features of the style
- One or two stories in height
- Building forms that respond to the site
- Shingled exteriors, occasionally clapboard or stucco
- Low-pitched gabled roofs
- Broad, overhanging eaves with exposed structural members such as rafter tails, knee braces, and king posts
- Broad front-entry porches of half or full-width, with square or battered columns, sometimes second-story sleeping porches
- Extensive use of natural materials for columns, chimneys, retaining walls, and landscape features
- Casement windows situated in groups
- Represents an early or rare example of the style in the community in which it is located
- If Airplane, then has a “pop-up” second story with one or two rooms
- If Japanese-influenced, then may have multi-gabled roofs or gables that peak at the apex and flare at the ends

Integrity Considerations: Should retain integrity of Design, Workmanship, Feeling, Setting, and Materials from the period of significance.

- Craftsman-style buildings that have been stuccoed are excluded from individual listing under C/3/3, if they were originally shingled or clapboarded
- The most common alteration is the replacement of windows and the enclosure of porches
- Some window replacement may be acceptable if the openings have not been resized, particularly windows associated with kitchens and bathrooms on rear and side elevations
- The enclosure of porches is an acceptable alteration so long as the features such as piers and posts have not been removed
- Brick or stonework may have been painted; acceptable as it is reversible
- Building may have been moved for preservation purposes
 - o Original use may have changed

An architectural integrity assessment of the subject property identified substantial alterations completed. Due to unpermitted alterations, the subject property does not meet eligibility standards for designation as a City HCM pursuant to Criterion 3. The following table summarizes the permits that have been issued for the subject property (Table 1, Historic Building Permits).

HISTORIC BUILDING PERMITS

Date	Permit No.	Architect/ Engineer	Builder	Owner	Scope of Work
8/16/1932	13253	None	None	John P. Lem
5/23/1958	LA1753	None	King Bros and McClung Builders Inc.	Hangsadan	Proposed duplex – two stories, 26' × 20'. Roofing clad in composition shingles.
6/9/2003	03016-10000- 10927	None	none	Cecilia Martinez	Re-roof and paint exterior

The permit history does not accurately summarize the substantial alteration the subject property has undergone. Based on a review of subject property photographs attached to the context statement, the subject property had a brick chimney. Based on Google Earth photographs, years ranging from 2007 to 2021, there is no chimney attached to the building and the interior fireplace was removed. Any records regarding the chimney and fireplace removal were not found. The subject property, according to the Los Angeles County Assessor portal, is deemed a multi-family residence, with the combined main residence and the duplex added in 1958 (Table 1). The subject property currently functions as multi-family residence; however, upon inspection it was noted numerous families reside at the property, and substantial unpermitted renovations have been done to accommodate the number of persons residing at the property. Based on the kitchen cabinetry, the building appears to have been subdivided into apartments in the 1980s. The illegal division into apartments in the 1980s has no association with the Hungsadan and substantially alters how the interiors would have appeared and would have been used by this organization. These renovations and occupancy limitations remain outside the legal zoning measures specific to the subject property.

CONSTRUCTION HISTORY

A review of building records did not identify an architect or builder associated with the original construction of the subject property. According to the Los Angeles County Assessor portal, the subject property was constructed in 1910. However, the earliest building permit on file indicates a construction project date of 1932, followed by the construction of a duplex in 1958. The 1958 building permit identifies the Los Angeles-based King Bros. and McClung Builders Inc. as the builder of the duplex. A review of historic issues of the Los Angeles Times and The Southwest Wave between 1958 and 1960⁵ highlight the company's advertisement for "unit income" apartments. The company offered various bed and bath combinations, Formica countertops, and 100-percent financing on new construction projects. The advertisements did include renovations of existing properties as well. No further information was found specific to the subject property.

OWNERSHIP AND OCCUPANT HISTORY

The ownership and occupant history are based on reviews of Ancestry.com databases, building permit records, and ProQuest searches of historic issues of the Los Angeles Times and Los Angeles Sentinel (Table 2, Ownership and Occupant History). The owner identified on the 1932 building permit was John P. Lem. No information regarding the life of John P. Lem was found. The Hungsadan owned the property from 1936 to 1978; the property functioned as its headquarters. Alongside Korean American organizations, the Hungsadan aided newly arrived Korean citizens in acclimating to the city. Additionally, the Hungsadan remained a meeting place to organize and coordinate Korean American efforts toward Korean independence. A building permit for a re-roof and exterior painting project in 2003 identified Cecilia Martinez as the property owner. An Ancestry.com database search indicated Martinez resided at the property from 1983 to 2020.⁶ No further database and newspaper publications reveal any information on the life of Martinez. The current owner is 3423 S. Catalina St. LLC.

CITY HCM CRITERIA

The subject property was nominated as a City HCM pursuant to Criteria 1 and 2:

Criterion 1: The subject property is identified with important events of national, state, or local history or exemplifies significant contributions to the broad cultural economic or social history of the nation, state, city, or community.

⁵ The Southwest Wave, 29 December 1960.

⁶ Ancestry.com. 2020. U.S., Index to Public Records, 1994–2019. Lehi, UT: Ancestry.com Operations, Inc.

Criterion 2: The subject property is associated with the lives of historic personages important to national, state, city, or local history.

Eligibility Determination

Based on the following information, the subject property is not eligible as a City HCM pursuant to Criterion 1. According to the SurveyLA Citywide Historic Context Statement, the subject property served as the last remaining Hungsadan headquarters. Prior to the acquisition of the subject property in 1936, Ahn established the Hungsadan in 1913 in San Francisco. The Ahn family residence served as the headquarters for the academy. SurveyLA specifically highlights the Ahn family's 1917 residence located at 106 N. Figueroa in Los Angeles.⁷ The context statement indicates Ahn established and operated the Hungsadan, remained dedicated to the promotion of Korean independence and culture in the United States,⁸ and directly worked with newly arrived Korean citizens to acclimate them to the city. Ahn's association and influence over the discourse of the Korean American experience specific to the subject property remains disconnected, due to his imprisonment and eventual death in Korea in 1938.⁹ Literature reviews of Stuart Anslow's From Creation to Unification, Anne Hagen Griffith's The Korean Americans, and An Pyong-Uk's Dosan: A Man and His Thoughts indicate Ahn spent significant time abroad fighting for Korean independence. The selected text placed Ahn in Shanghai and Korea alongside sporadic visits to the United States between the years of 1919 and 1938.¹⁰ Based on a review of various sources, Ahn made a larger contribution to the narrative specific to Korean independence in his home country of Korea. In his absence, Korean American organizations in Los Angeles played a more substantial role moving the community along politically and socially.

Organizations specific to empowering the growing Korean American community like the Korean National Association (KNA) provide a substantially richer narrative regarding overarching themes related to Korean American politics, national independence, cultural, and social mobility.

Additionally, the Korean American context highlights growth and development within the community in Los Angeles during the same period. The subject property remained a gathering place for Hungsadan members affiliated with the Korean independence movement until 1938.¹¹ Most of the early Korean American community organizations were influenced in terms of principals and functioned by the Korean Christian church. The KNA and Presbyterian church became the social center of the Korean community in Los Angeles.¹² The Korean Presbyterian Church located at 1374

W. Jefferson Blvd., alongside the KNA, took the lead regarding the Korean American community in Los Angeles and moved its headquarters from San Francisco to Los Angeles. The KNA established its headquarters at 1368 W. Jefferson Blvd., which the KNA operated as a center for community involvement and lobbying for Korean independence. Numerous independence groups were formed at the onset of the Japanese annexation of Korea in 1910. According to Ann Hagen Griffith's The New Americans: Korean Americans, "The Korean groups that operated between 1905 and 1945 collected money, held meetings, and published information about the condition of Korea under Japanese rule."¹³ Aside from the KNA serving as the main center for the Korean independence movement, the Korean-language newspaper The New Korea was published there. The KNA served the Korean American community through various efforts over time and was designated as City HCM No. 548 in 1991.¹⁴ In addition to the extant City HCM No. 548, the Dosan Ahn Chang Ho Family Home was designated as City HCM No. 1059 in 2013.

Additionally, the 2013 City HCM designation of the Dosan Ahn Chang Ho Family Home provides substantial evidence of his connection to Los Angeles and the Korean American experience. The subject property housing the Hungsadan from 1936 to 1978 does not stand out from the other substantial examples identified in the citywide context. Therefore, the subject property is not eligible as a City HCM pursuant to Criterion 1.

Based on these findings, Sapphos Environmental, Inc. concludes that the subject property is not eligible as a City HCM pursuant to Criterion 2 for its lack of association with the life of historic personage at the local, state, and national level. Ahn was imprisoned in Korea at the time of Hungsadan's acquisition of the property in 1936 and died two years later in 1938 before he could return home to Los Angeles.¹⁵ Sid Hughes' 1932 article highlights Ahn's time served in prison, "Chang Ho Ahn, Korean nationalist leader, formally of Los Angeles lies in dismal Shanghai prison. He is held on charges of implication in a recent Shanghai bombing that killed one prominent Japanese military official and maimed four others for life."¹⁶ Ahn never saw the property in person, and a direct connection to him cannot be made. The Ahn family's previous residences, prior to his departure, are substantial examples of direct association with Ahn's life and initial work in Los Angeles. The subject property's association with Ahn's teachings do not reflect his physical connection to the building. Therefore, the subject property does not meet Criterion 2.

The subject property is not eligible as a City HCM pursuant to Criterion 3 since it does not reflect the work of a master designer, builder, or architect; and the building materials are common and mass-produced. The property has undergone substantial alterations over time and does not retain integrity of design, materials, workmanship, feeling, and association. The extant permits do not accurately summarize the substantial alterations the property has undergone. Based on a review of subject property photographs attached to the context statement—and are readily available online—the subject property had a brick chimney. Based on Google Earth photographs, years ranging from 2007 to 2021, there is no chimney attached to the building. Any records regarding the chimney and

The subject property, according to the Los Angeles County Assessor portal, is a multi-family residence, with the combined main residence and the duplex added in 1958 (Table 1). The subject property currently functions as a multi-family residence; however, upon inspection it was noted numerous families reside at the property and substantial unpermitted renovations have been done to accommodate the number of persons residing at the property. Based on the kitchen cabinetry, the building appears to have been subdivided into apartments in the 1980s. The illegal division into apartments in the 1980s has no association with the Hungsadan and substantially alters how the interiors would have appeared and would have been used by this organization. These renovations and occupancy limitations remain outside the legal zoning measures specific to the subject property. Therefore, the subject property does not possess sufficient integrity to convey an association with the Hungsadan and does not qualify for designation as a City HCM under the City of Los Angeles's Cultural Heritage Ordinance.

CONCLUSION

Sapphos Environmental, Inc. completed a peer review of the HCM nomination and the SurveyLA Citywide Historic Context Statement. In addition to the context statement, a literature review was conducted using various source materials including newspaper articles from the Los Angeles Times, Los Angeles Recorder, and The Southwest Wave; texts exploring the Korean American experience in Los Angeles; and documentation of Ahn's travels abroad during the period of significance of his supposed association with the subject property. From this secondary research and review, Sapphos Environmental, Inc. has determined that the subject property does not possess sufficient integrity and does not meet Criteria 1, 2, and/or 3 to merit designation as a City HCM. Dear Commissioners and Councilmember Harris-Dawson,

My name is David Yoo, and I am a professor of Asian American studies and history at UCLA. My research and teaching over the past 30 years has focused on Asian American history, including three books and many articles on Korean American history.

I write in support of the designation of the Hung Sa Dahn buildings as a historic cultural monument. The history of Korean Americans and other groups so important to the city of Los Angeles and the state of California has largely gone unrecorded. This case represents a critical opportunity to recover and reclaim a buried past.

Understandably, there will be varying interpretations of the significance of this site, but the property on 3421-3423 South Catalina was a vibrant locale of activity. Any suggestion otherwise is simply not true. Our understanding of the past is always partial and fragmentary, but there is no doubt from the historical record that the property on South Catalina played an important role in the life of a key organization within the Korean American community in Los Angeles.

Sincerely,

David K. Yoo

Re: Heungsadan: Young Korean Academy Designation

Dear President Milofsky and Honorable Members of the Cultural Heritage Commission,

My name is Edward T. Chang and I am a Professor of Ethnic Studies and the founding Director of the Young Oak Kim Center for Korean American Studies at the University of California at Riverside. I'm a Korean American and Korean expert and I've published twelve books, seven edited volumes, and numerous articles on Korean Americans during the 30 years of my academic career. My latest book is Pachappa Camp: The First Koreatown in the United States which won the "Grand Prize" from the Association for Studies of Koreans Abroad. The book was also featured in the NY Times, LA Times, NBC News, and PBS News Hour will air an episode about the book in November 2021. I write to you today in support of the Historic Cultural Monument (HCM) designation of the Heungsadan building in Los Angeles.

The Heungsadan (Young Korean Academy) and Korean National Association are two of the most important organizations founded by Dosan Ahn Chang Ho in the United States. I consider the Heungsadan building as one of the most significant historical sites in Korean American history as it served as the headquarters of the Heungsadan until it relocated to Korea. In fact, the Korean newspaper the Sinhan Minbo (August 25, 1932) reported that the Heungsadan purchased its headquarters building the Los Angeles and this was the first time in history this occurred. A housewarming party was held on October 2, 1932 at 8 p.m. according to a Sinhan Minbo article published on September 29, 1932 article. The Sinhan Minbo (October 13, 1932) later reported that the housewarming party was a huge success. One of the guests, Dr. Kyu Nam Choi, joyfully declared that "it was the first time since I came to America 45 years ago that Korean Americans came together and celebrated in such a large number." The Sinhan Minbo (October 20, 1932) also reported that the Korean National Association of Los Angeles donated a wall clock to the Heungsadan for its new headquarters. Many other organizations donated items to celebrate the housewarming party. The fact that the Sinhan Minbo reported on the housewarming party three times, reveals the historical significance of this property.

Dosan Ahn Chang Ho founded the Young Korean Academy on May 13, 1913 in San Francisco to promote mutual love by bringing together loyal and trustworthy young men and women committed to the principles of seeking the truth and practicing it; to help develop sound character and sacred organization by group training in three areas, the ethical, the physical, and the intellectual; and to build a firm foundation for the future national prosperity.¹ Many important historical events were held at the Los Angeles Heungsadan building after it was purchased in 1932. Not only did the property serve as the headquarters of the Heungsadan, more importantly many historically significant events were held at this building. For example, the

Sinhan Minbo (November 12, 1942) reported "Dosan Ahn Chang Ho's birthday memorial celebration" was held at the headquarters of the Heungsadan as its top story. The Sinhan Minbo (January 1-2, 1938) also reported that the Korean community in Los Angeles formed an organization to support China at the headquarters of the Heungsadan in Los Angeles. Also, historical debate between supporters of nationalism versus socialism was held at this building on February 19, 1933 (Sinhan Minbo, February 16, 1933). The building also served as a communal location for Korean Americans who lived and worked in Los Angeles. The historic significance of the building isn't limited to just its structure, but rather encompasses the cultural, social, and at times political capital and activities the location was home to.

Designating the Heungsadan building as an HCM, spotlights Los Angeles' important multicultural past. The building, though in poor condition, is a symbol of Korean American identity and community. I fully support the HCM designation and believe the historic significance of the Heungsadan building is worthy of recognition and preservation.

Finally, I want to note that, unfortunately, Flip Cuddy has a long track record of trying to oppose historic designations of Dosan related sites. He sent more than 200 emails to the city of Riverside to oppose the designation of Pachappa Camp as the city's first Point of Cultural Interest. Despite his opposition, the City of Riverside designated 1532 Pachappa Avenue (now 3096 Cottage Street) as a Point of Cultural Interest in 2017. The city found no merit in his claims nor any of his research. The city hired an outside historian to evaluate the designation me and my team submitted and concluded that Flip had no merit. Sadly, Flip is trying to do the same thing with the Heungsadan building designation. I want to point out that scholarship, history, and research support the HCM designation of the Heungsadan building the LA Conservancy is petitioning for.

I strongly support the HCM designation of the Heungsadan property located at 3421-3423 Catalina Street in Los Angeles. If I may be of further assistance, or if I can provide more information about this, please feel free to reach out to me.

Dear honorable Cultural Heritage Commissioners,

My name is Gabriel Vallejo 유현수. I strongly support the designation of Hung Sa Dahn Building as a Historic Cultural Monument.

In the 118-year history of Korean immigrants (1903-2021), the Hung Sa Dahn was the home for youth education, talent training, and the Korean independence movement. The building was first purchased by Korean migrants in Los Angeles in 1932. After Ahn Chang-ho, the founder of Hung Sa Dahn, left for Shanghai to support the independence movement in 1926, the HungSaDahn building remained the headquarters where early national leaders continued the independence movement with the Korean National Association until 1945. This is the building where all Koreans gathered to run a lifesaving campaign when Dosan Ahn Chang-ho was arrested while fighting for independence in Shanghai in April 1932. Throughout its existence, the HungSaDahn building has served as a hub for the Korean-American community's growth and development within the surrounding area. The building was crucial to the success of Dosan Ahn Chang-ho's efforts to strengthen the Korean-American community, and should be recognized as such, immortalizing the legacy of Dosan Ahn Chang-ho.

The experience that our Korean descendant community in Mexico has is that after 100 years we only have a single historical place where our ancestors met, after several generations the different buildings that were counted were lost.

It is very important to preserve these spaces since they are not only buildings, they have become a symbol of the community and its history and it is a reminder for future generations that our history is strong and it is important to preserve our Korean identity.

Although some people think that it has no historical relevance, I can only imagine the time that Dosan Ahn Chang Ho spent planning, meditating and making important decisions in that place for the independence movement. The building was crucial to the success of Dosan Ahn Chang-ho's efforts to strengthen the Korean-American community, and should be recognized as such, immortalizing the legacy of Dosan Ahn Chang-ho. Also is very important building for Mexico too, because Dosan Ahn Chang-ho don't forgot the Korean community in Mexico who were part of his plan.

I really hope that the same thing that we are happening in Mexico does not happen in LA, although we are struggling to recover our Korean identity, we need this symbols of inspiration that could facilitate our work.

Please approve the nomination of the Hung Sa Dahn Building as a Historic-Cultural Monument.

Thank you.

Gabriel Vallejo 유현수.

Dear Cultural Heritage Commission :

Hello, I'm Heejeong Lee who belongs to MPVA(Ministry of Patriots & Veterans Affairs).
I'm in charge of preserving and managing historic site related to the Korean independent movement.

As the person in charge of this work, I will assert that Hung sa dahn Building should be designated as a historical memorial in Los Angeles.

Hung Sa Dahn Building is a historic place that played a great role in the independence movement of Korea and has contributed greatly to the settlement of Koreans in Los Angeles.

During the Japanese colonial days, there were so many Korean migrants educated in this building, and thanks to this spirited education it was able to resist for independence.

Also, it was able to support for many patriots in Korea of China continuously resisting for independence by raising funds from Korean migrants.

Even after independence, many Korean migrants learned together the resistance spirit of Ahn Chang-ho and served as a place to relieve longing for their homeland from distance place.

In this time, many offsprings from Korean migrants who had lived in LA have contributed to this city community in their own positions.

Therefore, this building is the memorial place set up present LA many Korean migrants living altogether.

As the United States has a history of independence, I believe that the US sympathizes with the need to succeed the independence spirit.

Please approve this nomination in order to save this important Korean American landmark.

This is an important opportunity to preserve an accurate account of our community's presence, history, and significance in Los Angeles.

Thank you

Heejeong Lee

Koreans who lived in the United States when they were in danger of losing their homeland did not sit still. Together, they worked hard to find a way to save their country. The HungSaDahn Building was the home of the Korean American Independence Movement.

In October of 2020, the Governor of California passed legislation recognizing ethnic studies as a high school graduation requirement beginning in the 2029-30 school year. We know how important it is not only to read about the subject, but also to visit a site where the history remains alive.

It is our responsibility and duty to preserve our history for future generations.

Please support the Korean American community to keep the HungSaDahn Building for future generations as a historical site, preserving the space where Dosan Ahn Chang-ho led the Korean Independence Movement and educated young leaders who took root in the United States.

Designating the HungSaDahn Building as a historic-cultural monument would allow for the city of LA to acknowledge the connection between Korean and American history.

Thank you.

Coalition for preserving and purchasing HungSaDahn Building

미국 한인의 역사는 1903년, 대한민국이 일제 침략이 있을 때 시작됐습니다.

2020년 10월, 캘리포니아 주지사는 2029-30학년도부터 인종학 과목을 고등학교 졸업에 위한 필수 과목으로 인정하는 법안을 통과시켰습니다. 교과 내용을 교과서에서 뿐 아니라 역사가 살아있는 현장에 발문하는 것이 얼마나 중요한지를 압니다.

미래 세대들을 위한 역사 보존이 현재를 살고 있는 우리의 책임이고 의무입니다.

도산 안창호 선생이 미국 땅에서 대한민국의 독립운동을 이끌고, 미국에 뿌리를 내린 청년 지도자를 교육한 공간이었던 흥사단 단소를 다음 세대들에게 미국 한인 역사 사적지로 남길수 있도록 힘을 모아 주십시오.

흥사단 단소를 사적지으로 지정하는 것은 LA City가 미국 역사와 한국의 역사가 연결되어 있음을 인정하는 선택이 될 것 입니다.

흥사단 단소 보존 및 구입 위원회

Dear Cultural Heritage Commissioners,

My name is John Jongwoon Lee, Senior Advisor of The Dosan Ahn Chang Ho Memorial Foundation of Americas, and I strongly support the HCM designation of the Heung Sa Dhan property located at 3421-3423 Catalina Street in Los Angeles as a Historic-Cultural Monument.

Designating the Heung Sa Dhan building as an HCM, spotlights Los Angeles' important multicultural past. The building, though in poor condition, is a symbol of Korean American identity and community. I fully support the HCM designation and believe the historic significance of the Heung Sa Dhan building is worthy of recognition and preservation.

For your information, I would like to note that, unfortunately, Mr. Flip Cuddy has a long track record of trying to oppose historic designations of Dosan related sites. He sent more than 200 emails to the city of Riverside to oppose the designation of Pachappa Camp as the city's first Point of Cultural Interest. Despite his opposition, the City of Riverside designated 1532 Pachappa Avenue (now 3096 Cottage Street) as a Point of Cultural Interest in 2017. The city found no merit in his claims nor any of his research and concluded that Flip had no merit. Sadly, Flip is trying to do the same thing with the Heung Sa Dhan building designation. I want to point out that many scholars, historians, and researchers support the HCM designation of the Heung Sa Dhan building the LA Conservancy is petitioning for.

Once again, this is an important opportunity to preserve an accurate account of our community's presence, history, and significance in Los Angeles.

Thank you.

John Jongwoon Lee

Dear Cultural Heritage Commission

My name is Mijung Konakov and I urge you to approve the nomination of the Hung Sa Dahn Building as a Historic-Cultural Monument.

Hung Sa Dahn Building located at 3421-3423 South Catalina Street is an important place for Korean Americans and for Koreans to remember how young Koreans supported each other to achieve the independence from Japan for their motherland, Korea.

As a teacher, I would like to share this historical building with a young growing generation to learn about their ancestors' early settlement as well as about their patriotic history.

Please approve this nomination of the Hung Sa Dahn Building as a HCM for all Korean heritage communities in the USA and for all Koreans living all over the world.

Thank you.

Re: Case No. CHC-2021-5125-HCM
Property Address: 3421-3423 South Catalina Street

Dear President Milofsky and Hon. Members of the Cultural Heritage Commission:

Our office represents the owner of 3421-3423 South Catalina Street (the "Property") in connection with the pending nomination to designate our client's property as a Historic-Cultural Monument ("HCM") pursuant to Los Angeles Administrative Code ("LAAC") Section 22.171.10. For the reasons stated herein, we submit this letter in vigorous opposition to the nomination. Although the Property was once owned by the Hungsadan, a Korean-American organization formed to assist the Korean independence movement, none of the significant independence activities associated with the Hungsadan occurred at the Property. Rather, the Property simply served as the Hungsadan's headquarters for a brief period of its 100+ years of existence. There is nothing particularly significant about this Property that warrants special recognition or designation as a city-wide HCM. Moreover, any association the Property may have once had with the Hungsadan is long since gone, as the building had been subject to extensive unpermitted and illegal renovations prior to our client purchasing it. The alterations are so substantial that it has rendered the existing structures uninhabitable and beyond repair, and the remaining structure exists today as only a shadow of its original self. Accordingly, the Property does not convey any association with the Hungsadan or the Hungsadan's founder Dosan Ahn Chang ("Dosan"), and does not meet the criteria for designation as an HCM.

A. The Property does not exemplify the contributions of the Hungsadan or Dosan Ahn Chang.

The premise of this nomination argues that, because the Hungsadan once owned and operated out of this Property, it is de-facto significant and worthy of designation as an HCM.

This simply is not sufficient. Such logic would render every office of every organization to be a potential HCM, without any consideration of what actually took place on the Property, a result clearly not intended by the express language of the HCM criteria. This is particularly true in this instance, where the Property: (i) was not constructed by, or for, the Hungsadan; (ii) does not contain a single architectural element or feature that connects the actual structure with its use by the Hungsadan (e.g., the architecture and design of the building is wholly unrelated to the use.); and, (iii) is not connected with any historically significant or notable Hungsadan event, since Hungsadan members used the building primarily as a dorm and engaged in their significant independence work at the nearby Korean National Association building on Jefferson Boulevard. The Property also lacks any association with its founder Dosan, who had been imprisoned in Korea and later died before ever having an opportunity to set foot on the Property.

These conclusions are supported by testimony and research prepared by Korean-American experts with extensive experience and knowledge of the history of both Dosan and Hungsadan. Attached as Exhibit A is a letter from award-winning author John Cha who has written about and researched the life of Dosan, his daughter Susan Ahn Cuddy, and other members of the Hungsadan. His review of the nomination found that it "greatly exaggerates the significance of [the] Catalina building..." and that "[t]here is no evidence... that any historically significant event, meeting, or activity took place" on the property. (See Exhibit A, October 8, 2021 Letter from John Cha.) These findings are also supported by the nomination itself, which fails to cite to a single significant event, meeting, or activity occurring at the Property. Lacking such evidence, the nomination makes general statements about activities at the Property, stating generally that the Property operated as a "social and cultural hub." But such a general statement - that the building was lived in by members of the Hungsadan and used for occasional meetings - is not evidence that the building meets the HCM criteria. This is particularly true in light of the fact that the Korean National Association ("KNA") building and the Korean United Presbyterian Church, both located nearby on Jefferson Boulevard, are known to have been the location of significant Korean-American community activities and cultural engagement for generations of Korean Americans living in Los Angeles. The subject Property, on the other hand, had a very limited use for a relatively short period of time. Accordingly, the Property does not exemplify the contributions of the Hungsadan, and cannot meet the criteria for designation as an HCM.

B. The Property does not represent or convey any association with the legacy of Dosan or the Hungsadan.

John Cha's analysis is also supported by testimony of the descendants of Dosan, his grandchildren Philip Cuddy and Christine Cuddy, who have already submitted a detailed letter explaining why they oppose this HCM nomination. In their September 9, 2021 letter, they explain that the designation of the Property "will [not] do anything to further their [family's] legacy," and that the Property "cannot legitimately be said to represent the significance of either Dosan or the YKA." (See Exhibit B.) In subsequent correspondence, Philip Cuddy also expressed frustration with the nomination's attempt to stretch facts in order to connect this "dilapidated" Property to Dosan's legacy. (See Exhibit C.) The fact is, Dosan never stepped foot on the Property. Moreover, the home Dosan's family did reside in, is already preserved as a HCM on the University of Southern California ("USC") campus. Dosan's descendants are reasonably and rightly distressed that this HCM nomination seeks to manufacture a connection between a run-down and neglected building and Dosan's prolific legacy.

C. To the extent the Property did at one time represent Dosan or the Hungsadan, alterations and decay have destroyed its ability to convey that association.

As explained by the National Park Service's bulletin on the land marking of potentially historic properties, historic integrity is the ability of a property to convey its historical associations or attributes. To retain sufficient integrity of association, the property must be "sufficiently intact to convey that relationship to an observer." (National Park Service, NHL Bulletin.¹) In this case, due to countless unpermitted alterations, decay, and years of deferred maintenance, the building lacks sufficient integrity for designation as it cannot reasonably be argued that it conveys any relationship to the Hungsadan or Dosan. The exterior facade has been substantially altered, brick features and historic signage identifying it as a Hungsadan building long since removed and destroyed, a patio and trellis added in the front modified the facade, and a large porch near the rear has been enclosed without permits in the rear. The Property's large fireplace and chimney have also been removed. The interior is also lost due to unpermitted alterations. The primary structure, which the nomination describes as a single-family home with a large meeting hall, has been divided into multiple dwelling units without permits. This work eliminated the so-called "meeting hall" and the remnants of the previous single-family structure. Accordingly, even if the Property did at one time convey an association with the Hungsadan and/or Dosan, after years of decay and unpermitted work, the Property no longer conveys this association, and therefore does not meet the required HCM criteria for designation.

D. Designating the Property would result in the existing buildings becoming a persistent nuisance for the community.

Our client purchased the subject Property on April 15, 2020 at a cost of $1,895,000 with the intent of demolishing the existing structures and building a new Transit-Oriented Communities ("TOC") multi-family residential development. Due to the terrible condition of the Property and the existing buildings, the Property was marketed and sold as a tear-down redevelopment opportunity that is "perfect for developers," and our client purchased it based on this representation.² In performing its due diligence on the Property, neither our client nor our client's broker were made aware that the Property had any historic value. In fact, the City's records also do not identify the property as containing a potentially historic resource, as neither ZIMAS nor HistoricPlacesLA identified the property as a potential historic resource. For reference, attached as Exhibit E is an image of HistoricPlacesLA's map, which still does not identify any potential historic resource on the property, and which advises the public that [i]f you do not find SurveyLA information on a property in HistoricPlacesLA, it may mean that SurveyLA found that the property does not qualify as a historic resource." (Id., pg. 2.) As recent as a few months ago, when our client emailed the Department of City Planning to ask about this precise issue, the Department confirmed that the "property does not appear to be recognized as historic or potentially historic by the City." (Exhibit F.)

Now, with the prospect of this nomination looming over the Property, any requirement that the buildings be maintained as an HCM would eviscerate their investment backed-expectation in purchasing the Property. Decades of unpermitted alterations and deferred maintenance have made the existing structure uninhabitable and unsafe, and any attempt to bring the Property up to code would be financially and technically infeasible. These modifications and unpermitted alterations undermine any historic integrity the Property may have once had, as well as its ability to be used and rented for any financial gain. The damage to the building is so extensive, that any effort to bring the structure up to current building code requirements in order to rent it or occupy it would be cost-prohibitive for any owner. Accordingly, if designated, it may be reasonably assumed that the building will do nothing but remain abandoned and left to decay even further. This would not be a good result for anyone.

E. Although the Property does not meet the criteria for an HCM, the owner has volunteered to honor the history of Dosan and the Hungsadan with a plaque and tribute garden.

Notwithstanding our view that the Property does not qualify as an HCM, our client does acknowledge the fact that this HCM process itself has brought attention to an important aspect of South LA's history, i.e., the role of local Korean-Americans – like Dosan, his family, and members of the Hungsadan - in the Korean independence movement. To help share and amplify this history, our client proposes to include a beautiful and thoughtful tribute plaque and garden at the Project site so that visitors and residents alike can learn more about this history and those who were involved. Attached as Exhibit G is a conceptual design for the proposed plaque and garden, which will include a publicly accessible placard, as well as a garden planted with MuGungHwa, the national flower of South Korea. Philip Cuddy, the grandson of Dosan, has volunteered to assist the owner in the design of the garden, and the substance of the plaque. Our client truly believes that this type of display will do much more to advance and share the legacy of the Hungsadan, Dosan, and Korea-American independence activists, than designating a Property as an HCM that nobody will be able to connect to its purported history.

For these reasons, we urge the Commission deny the HCM nomination for this Property. Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,

Re: Review of 3421-3423 S. Catalina Street Historic Monument Nomination, i.e., the former Hungsadan
location. (CHC-2021-5125-HCM)

Dear City of Los Angeles Cultural Heritage Commission,

My name is John Cha, writer and award-winning translator of Korean literature into English. I have written about Korean American history, including Dosan Ahn Chang-Ho and his daughter, Susan Ahn Cuddy. I have worked with Dosan scholars from Dosan Memorial Foundation of Korea and research fellows from Korean Independence Hall.

I have been retained by the owner of 3421-3423 S. Catalina Street to provide my independent evaluation of the proposed a Historic-Cultural Monument (HCM) nomination for the building, and to clarify several misleading statements included in the nomination materials submitted by the original applicant. As explained in greater detail below, based on my experience and extensive knowledge of the subject area, the former Hungsadan building located at 3421-3423 S. Catalina Street does not meet the City's criteria for designation as an HCM because the building is not identified with important historical events relating to the Korean independence movement. Further, the building does not meet the City's criteria of exemplifying Dosan Ahn Chang Ho (Dosan) or Hungsadan. For these reasons, the HCM nomination of the Catalina property should be denied.

To understand the relative insignificance of the Catalina property, it is important that the Commission understand the basic history and purpose of the Hungsadan, which is not clearly explained by the nomination. Dosan founded the Hungsadan in San Francisco in 1913 in order to develop the manpower necessary to assist the Korean independence movement. The previously established Korean National Association (KNA), which was formed in 1909 in San Francisco, had a similar objective, although was more direct in its political agenda and intentions.¹ Many KNA members joined Hungsadan, and vice versa. In many ways, KNA behaved like a government in fundraising and carrying out its policies, while Hungsadan, by its charter, focused on building character for its members. Accordingly, there was a lot of overlap between these organizations with respect to mission and membership. While the Hungsadan and its members made many significant contributions to the independence movement, they did so primarily in their role as members and officials of the KNA, the Provisional Government of Korea, and UKC. While the Hungsadan organization certainly played an role in the Korean independence movement, its most significant work was through its members' involvement with these other entities, and not necessarily through its own work, which emphasized character building and non-political activities.

It is also important to put the Hungsadan's use of the Catalina Street building into context. The Hungsadan was originally founded and formed in San Francisco, California, in 1913. It was then relocated to Los Angeles, and after operating in the Bunker Hill area, it moved to 3421 Catalina Street in 1932. While the building was owned by the Hungsadan until 1978, it only operated out of the building until 1948, when the Hungsadan moved its organization headquarters to Seoul, Korea, along with its executive authority and records, leaving the Catalina building to be used primarily as housing for elder members and visitors.

A review of historic archives reveals that only a few letters originate from Hungsadan members residing at the Catalina address, even during the period it operated as the organization's headquarters. The correspondences between the headquarters and Fareast branch deal with Dong Myung Academy in Nanjing, China, for which Hungsadan members provided financial support. There are correspondences related to Dosan's arrest and his legal fund, as well as letters concerning his death. The absence of historical material directly related to the independence work is because the Hungsadan members engaged in most of their independence work in their capacity as members of the KNA, which was located nearby on Jefferson Boulevard and is already a historically landmarked site by the City. There is no evidence in the nomination - or that I have discovered in my own research - that any historically significant event, meeting, or activity took place at the Catalina building, or that the building held much significance to even the Hungsadan, which sold it in 1978.

In considering the history of independence work by Dosan, Hungsadan, and KNA, the major centers of the activities were San Francisco (Kong Lip, KNA), Korea (Shin Min Hoe), Shanghai(Provisional Government), Hawaii (KNA), Mexico/Cuba (KNA), and Manchuria (Liberation Army, KNA), Los Angeles (KNA), and Washington DC (UKC). Few, if any, historical documents are attributed to 3421 Catalina. In terms of the overall independence work, the Catalina house has little historical significance other than the fact that it served as a gathering place for Hungsadan members for a short period of time. There is no evidence of declaration of historical importance nor documents originating from the said address. The actual work of independence was carried out at the KNA property on Jefferson Street, such as corresponding with the Provisional Government, publishing New Korea newspaper (Shin Han Minbo), holding meetings, conferences, and fundraising.

In conclusion, while I do not question the contribution of Hungsadan to the Korean independence movement, the fact is that there is no evidence that any of those significant contributions occurred at the Catalina building, or that the building is in some way attributed or identified with those contributions. Accordingly, the nomination greatly exaggerates the significance of this Catalina building both with respect to its relevance to the Korean independence movement, its role in the Korean community, and its significance to the Hungsadan as a whole.

RE: 3421-3423 South Catalina Street. (CHC-2021-5125-HCM)

Dear Heritage Commission:

My name is Philip Cuddy. My sister, Christine Cuddy and I are two of the grandchildren of Dosan Ahn Chang Ho, one of the founders of the Young Korean Academy (YKA) and the main force behind the Korean National Association (KNA), the most important community organization in Korean American history. Our grandmother Helen Ahn, Dosan's wife, is also known as Yi Hye Ryon. For the reasons stated below, I submit this letter on our behalf in deep-rooted opposition to the proposed Historic Cultural Monument (HCM) nomination of the former YKA building on Catalina Street.

Before writing this letter, I had the opportunity to walk through the building and property. My sister and I have memories of when the building was used by the YKA as a residence containing a communal meeting area in the living room which was used by the YKA for small private meetings specific to YKA activities. Article 6 of the YKA Constitution prohibits political pursuits of any kind by the YKA. Every YKA member was a KNA member. The community meetings were held in the KNA building just two blocks away on Jefferson Blvd. That's where the community political and Independence Movement events took place. The KNA building was big and there were educational activities for children. There were sports for teenagers. The Presbyterian Church next door had a huge kitchen, class rooms and the worship hall.

I was shocked to see the dear old YKA house. It is a nightmare with a builder's eyes open. I built houses in Malibu Colony, Stone Canyon and common homes. It is easy to see Catalina is now a teardown. According to the guidelines of the 2017 Survey it is obvious Catalina is not an HCM.

The YKA was a closed group. Only invited qualified people could become members. As it stands today, the Catalina building has lost all of the character it once had. The thing I remember most was the brick entry, fireplace and chimney. Gone! This structure has been oddly divided into several separate living units, the large living room area is gone, and even the front façade has been altered. The YKA abandoned this house selling it for profit many years ago, and after 50 years of use by other owners, it is in such disrepair that it cannot legitimately be said to represent the significance of either Dosan or the YKA. The cost to restore it is beyond reason. Dosan would frown on wasting money to take it away from the owner. Dosan would prefer awarding students with a decent apartment planned by the current owners.

I participated in the LA City Planning Office of Historic Resources Asian American Survey in 2017. The Catalina YKA property was listed in this Survey. The Korean American sub-group did not recognize any significance to recommend an HMC for the YKA to the Office of Historic Resources. The two reasons I recall were nothing unique about this Craftsman style dwelling and since the YKA was a closed group it was not open to the broader Korean community.

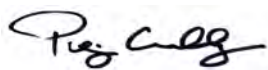

The Korean community had other established organizations with buildings such as the Dongjihoe in Los Angeles run by Syngman Rhee and his anti-Dosan and anti-KNA followers.

I know how this HCM process works. I gave the decisive research and testimony in San Francisco to list the Powell Street Korean Church as an HCM. I gave the decisive testimony in Sacramento to get it recognized by the State placing this church on the National Registrar. History is not history unless it's true! The Catalina Application is based on manipulated truth.

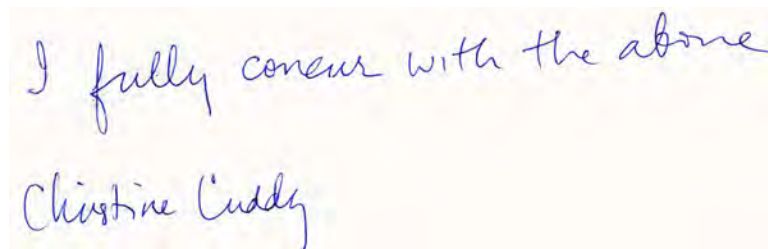

While my sister and I acknowledge that the City has preserved the important legacy of our grandfather Dosan Ahn Chang Ho and our mother Susan Ahn Cuddy by designating the last family home located at USC as an Historic Cultural Monument (The Ahn Family House), we definitely do not believe the Catalina Street building can or will do anything to further their legacy or that of the YKA. The KNA building - an existing HCM located just two blocks from the Catalina Street property - was the primary community building used by Koreans in Los Angeles and the KNA and its members, and it unquestionably serves a much better reflection of the work done by Dosan and YKA. The Presbyterian Church next to the KNA building has more significance to the community and its heritage than the YKA. YKA members participated in the KNA to fulfil much more important contributions to the Independence Movement than the YKA work itself. Only a very few members of the YKA lived at the Catalina Street house, it is the KNA building which represents the YKA's contribution to our community, and not the dilapidated structure that remains on Catalina Street.

There is yet another, perhaps more important reason, why we oppose this nomination. We know the current owners' plans to build new modern student housing for college students on the property would not be realized if the property is designated as an HCM. We have little doubt that our grandfather Dosan would be very upset new student housing would have to be sacrificed in the name of preserving his legacy. There is a better way, and that is to permit this new student housing project to proceed while memorializing the history of the site by thoughtfully creating a meaningful recognition of Dosan and YKA in the front area of the new building. We have volunteered, and the owners have accepted, our offer to work together to design and install such recognition. We think this thoughtful and educational memorial would do much more to preserve the legacy of our grandfather, than simply forcing the owners to keep the existing building until it falls to the ground from decay.

We respectfully submit this letter for your consideration.

Philip Cuddy

Christine Cuddy.

Subject: 3421 Catalina YKA House HCM Application

Dear Friends of History,

Based on the CHC-2021-5125-HCM 3421 Catalina Street Application and its Recommendation approval by your Office I have contacted an attorney about withdrawing ALL of my support and historical materials from the Application of another HCM through LA Conservancy and your office for Philip Ahn's house above Hollywood Bowl at 6879 Alta Loma Terrace. I cannot trust any of you to handle Philip Ahn's legacy properly based on what was done with YKA Application. What a shame.

The unacceptable process I see in this CHC-2021-5125-HCM Application and approved Recommendation for an HCM is alarming. In particular this Catalina HCM is an illogical and unethical attempt to place politics over history.

I will be publishing a detailed review of the specific problems with CHC-2021-5125-HCM Application that have been incorporated, ignorantly and possibly purposefully, in the Application photos, Summary and the long text about Dosan Ahn Chang Ho. This Application was not properly researched or vetted by staff, experts and worst of all by people who signed the Application in approval. People should not be involved when they don't understand the matter at hand and disregard the truth which should be found and supported through proper research and accumulated knowledge. I have better things to do than deal with this disappointing situation. The failure here cannot go unnoticed

For example - A picture is worth a 1000 words. This glaring caption error about City Hall is a clear sign of the alarming depth of mediocrity found in this Application. How could anyone who works for LA City Hall who frequents City Hall condone this ineptness by approving the Application for 3421 Catalina Street to be an HCM? Anyone who works in City Hall and more so in City Planning should know the difference between the Council Chambers and another building? In this case of the USC Church mistake the improper identification is an automatic fail. Your work is intended to collect, record and utilize correct fine details! You have not! There is no acceptable excuse at all considering LA City Planning OHR is at fault.

Hello.

Please approve this nomination in order to save this important Korean American Landmark.

This is an important opportunity to preserve an accurate account of our community's presence, history, and significance in Los Angeles.

Thank you

Hi Melissa,

This is to follow-up on the addendum I sent yesterday. I have one additional error to note.

Page 12 (Written narrative): The Los Angeles Times published an article entitled "Angelino Dies in Seoul,"¹¹ and a public memorial service for Ahn was held in Los Angeles in 1938.¹²

We note the error in the application and request this information be updated in our file.

Thank you.

Re: Addendum to HCM nomination of Hung Sa Dahn (3421-3423 S. Catalina)
Date: October 28, 2021

Since the Historic-Cultural Monument application for the Hung Sa Dahn was deemed complete, new information confirming the organization's use of the subject property as early as 1929 and through 1979 was brought to our attention by the Hung Sa Dahn organization. We noted the updated period of significance of 1929 to 1979 in our presentation at the Cultural Heritage Commission meeting on July 15, 2021.

Please also note that the powerpoint and public presentation for the Cultural Heritage Commission meeting on July 15, 2021 included Image 2a (corresponding Slide 5 in powerpoint), which we misidentified as Helen Ahn and her children. See below.

Since the Cultural Heritage Commission meeting of July 15, 2021, we have also been made aware of additional technical errors in the application. Below we have identified these errors and provided requests to update the record and file. Thank you for your attention.

1. Written narrative

- a. Statement of Significance, Page 10: 3421-3423 South Catalina Street in the South Los Angeles neighborhood served as the global headquarters of the Young Korean Academy, or 'Hung Sa Dahn,' from 1929 to 1948. From 1948 to 1979 the subject property served as the organization's U.S. headquarters. We request this information be updated in our file.
- b. Page 16: In 1926, he helped Hung Sa Dahn members purchase a rice farm in Colusa County, personally assisting them in hauling crops to Los Angeles. We note the error in the application and request this information be updated in our file.

2. Photographs

Dear honorable Cultural Heritage Commissioners,

My name is Yung Ahn. I strongly support the designation of Hung Sa Dahn Building as a Historic Cultural Monument.

In the 118-year history of Korean immigrants (1903-2021), the Hung Sa Dahn was the home for youth education, talent training, and the Korean independence movement. The building was first purchased by Korean migrants in Los Angeles in 1932.

After Ahn Chang-ho, the founder of Hung Sa Dahn, left for Shanghai to support the independence movement in 1926, the HungSaDahn building remained the headquarters where early national leaders continued the independence movement with the Korean National Association until 1945. This is the building where all Koreans gathered to run a lifesaving campaign when Dosan Ahn Chang-ho was arrested while fighting for independence in Shanghai in April 1932. Throughout its existence, the HungSaDahn building has served as a hub for the Korean-American community's growth and development within the surrounding area. The building was crucial to the success of Dosan Ahn Chang-ho's efforts to strengthen the Korean-American community, and should be recognized as such, immortalizing the legacy of Dosan Ahn Chang-ho.

Please approve the nomination of the Hung Sa Dahn Building as a Historic-Cultural Monument.

Thank you.

Dear honorable Cultural Heritage Commissioners,

My name is Joy Kim. I am writing to express my strong support for the designation of Hung Sa Dahn Building as a Historic Cultural Monument.

Hung Sa Dahn was established in 1913 by the singularly revered leader, Dosan Ahn Chang Ho in San Francisco. The organization's initial mission was to build civic and political leadership capacity for the Korean independence movement from Japanese colonial rule (1910-1945). Hung Sa Dahn still stands strong today with membership of influential leaders. In its 108-year history, the Hung Sa Dahn organization played an important role in leadership development and training for the Korean American community.

After Hung Sa Dahn moved to Los Angeles, the organization first rented the building at 3423 S. Catalina St. LA 90007 and purchased it in 1932 as its Headquarter. The HungSaDahn building remained the headquarters where early national leaders continued the independence movement with the Korean National Association until 1945. This is the building where Koreans gathered to run a lifesaving campaign when Dosan Ahn Chang-ho was arrested while fighting for independence in Shanghai in April 1932. Throughout its existence, the HungSaDahn building has served as a hub for the Korean-American community's growth and development within the surrounding area. The building is a crucial part of Korean American history and should be preserved and recognized as such. Please help preserve the legacy of Dosan Ahn Chang-ho and early Korean Americans in Los Angeles.

Please approve the nomination of the Hung Sa Dahn Building as a Historic-Cultural Monument.

Thank you.

Joy Kim

Dear Distinguished Members of the Cultural Heritage Commission,

I strongly recommend the Historic-Cultural Monument (HCM) nomination for the Hung Sa Dahn/Young Korean Academy to the City Council's Planning and Land Use Management (PLUM) committee.

On behalf of the Korean Government and in the capacity of a consul in charge of supporting Korean diaspora, I maintain that the building of the Hung Sa Dahn (The property at 3421-3423 South Catalina Street) should be included in the listing as a Los Angeles Historic-Cultural Monument (HCM).

First of all, the building of the Hung Sa Dahn attests to the historical bond between the city of LA and Korea's independence movement. The property at 3421 South Catalina Street, which was leased by Hung Sa Dahn in 1929, then purchased in 1932 as its first standalone headquarters, clearly indicates that LA was an epicenter for Korea's independence movement well before the alliance between Korea and the US was forged in 1953.

We have been building a number of Korean War Memorial in the US to remember the support and sacrifices of our American friends in our adversity. In the same context, it goes without saying that we have to treasure the historical sites which are clear evidence of the ties between the US and Korea established in another difficult times well before the Korean War.

Second of all, the building of the Hung Sa Dahn meets the "Historic-Cultural Monument Criteria 1 and 2" pursuant to Los Angeles Administrative Code Chapter 9, Division 22, Article 1, Section 22.171.7 "Monument Designation Criteria."

The building of the Hung Sa Dahn exemplifies significant contributions to the broad cultural, economic, or social history of the nation, state, city, or community. The site at 3421-3423 South Catalina Street is exemplary as a rare and enduring Korean American institutional property in Los Angeles. 3421-3423 South Catalina Street was the location from which Hung Sa Dahn operated from 1936 to 1978, which is the period of significance for the property. The buildings are extant, intact, and rare examples of early institutional properties associated with Korean American immigration, settlement, and development in Los Angeles.

The property is directly associated with the life of historic personage, Dosan Ahn Chang Ho, a singularly important figure in Korean American history at the local, state, and national level, and in modern Korean history more broadly. Although Ahn was imprisoned abroad in Korea at the time of Hung Sa Dahn's acquisition of the property in 1936 and died two years later before he could return home to Los Angeles, he and his teachings are integral to the organization's existence over its 108-year history, including its period of significance at 3421-3423 South Catalina Street. Furthermore, the building's acquisition was facilitated through his direct efforts and served as the first and only standalone headquarters of Hung Sa Dahn in Los Angeles.

The Historic-Cultural Monument (HCM) nomination for the Hung Sa Dahn/Young Korean Academy is very important in preserving our shared history and learning from the past.

Please nominate the building of the Hung Sa Dahn (The property at 3421-3423 South Catalina Street) as a Historic-Cultural Monument and include it in the listing as a Los Angeles Historic-Cultural Monument (HCM). People in Korea as well as Korean Americans in LA are paying a lot of attention to a decision to be made by Cultural Heritage Commission, which will lead to a decision at the City Council's Planning and Land Use Management (PLUM) committee.

As the saying goes, very regretfully sometimes you don't know what you've got until it's gone. I solicit your informed decision after all things considered to nominate the building of the Hung Sa Dahn (The property at 3421-3423 South Catalina Street) as a Historic-Cultural Monument. End.

Dear Council Members,

Thank you for your assistance in advance. I'm asking you to please help protect our designated Historic Cultural Landmarks and federally protected cultural landmarks.

The historic, world-famous and federally protected Grauman's Chinese Theater, had a devastating blow by the PLUM committee yesterday, who decided to tear down, up-zone this federally protected landmark, along with many others. Why? Unfortunately, they chose not to add in important conditions to protect LA's historic places.

These were the simple conditions we asked PLUM to make, to avoid the destruction of our historic landmarks, could have added, but they chose not to protect our cultural heritage.

(3) corrections that needed to be made to this motion:

1. Please do NOT approve the HOUSING ELEMENT 2021-2019 WITHOUT an added condition that any parcel upzoned includes a mandate for the affordability, non-displacement, adaptive re-use, etc called out in the "programs" and Rezoning Appendix 4.7 in the Housing Element, AND
2. That your approval includes a CLEAR CONDITION that any implementation in any Community Plan of any upzoning reflected in this Housing Element be tailored to diminish adverse effects on historic buildings.
3. It is fully possible to meet our City's housing goals without demolishing a single historic building or ruining a single historic district.

Developed by impresario Sid Grauman, this world-famous theatre has been a Hollywood icon since the day it opened. Without this the Chinese Theater, and the rest of historic Hollywood, we will lose our identity and part of our early Hollywood Jewish cultural heritage. We will also lose the reason for tourists from all over the world to want to visit Hollywood. Please save historic Hollywood, historic Los Feliz and historic Los Angeles.

Please let me know if you have any questions and please save our cultural heritage.

Thank you!

Elizabeth

RE: Housing Element Update 2021 CF 21-1230

Dear Honorable Councilmembers,

Thank you for all the great work you do and I'm hoping you can help our city today.

In Los Angeles, we have a great responsibility toward our cultural past, all things present and how we can responsibly move forward, without causing irreparable harm, such as the extinction of Hollywood, Los Feliz and surrounding environment. I have faith in all of you today, that you can correct the current housing element. And I respectfully ask you to not pass this motion as it is written right now.

Sadly, the current plan, takes away historic protections for our world-known, iconic sites importance, like Sid Grauman's Chinese Theater and many others. Again, please do not accept or approve this current Housing Element version, as it is today. Save Hollywood and other historic sites from extinction. This motion is shameful for the irreversible destruction it will cause to our designated National Historic Hollywood District, and other historic landmarks. It's unacceptable. It's criminal. What's next? Will you propose tearing down City Hall?

But perhaps this is a simple error? Fortunately, it's not too late, hope is not lost and this mistake can be corrected today.

Please make the following (3) corrections to the existing motion:

1. Please do NOT approve the HOUSING ELEMENT 2021-2019 WITHOUT an added condition that any parcel upzoned includes a mandate for the affordability, non-displacement, adaptive re-use, etc called out in the "programs" and Rezoning Appendix 4.7 in the Housing Element, AND
2. That your approval includes a CLEAR CONDITION that any implementation in any Community Plan of any upzoning reflected in this Housing Element be tailored to diminish adverse effects on historic buildings.
3. It is fully possible to meet our City's housing goals without demolishing a single historic building or ruining a single historic district.

Please revise the current Housing Element Update 2021 CF 21-1230 to help Hollywood, Los Feliz, and areas of other great historic value, thrive, while preserving and protecting the very culture character and community which makes it a place that is uniquely identified world wide. Please correct up-zoning in designated National and State historic districts and Historic Cultural Monuments.

- Preserve Historic Buildings and All Significant Cultural Sites.
- Protect Existing Affordable Housing and promote re-use.
- Celebrate Hollywood's Diverse Communities. Preserve the cultural landscape of Hollywood and Los Feliz.
- Protect the place where cultural producers live, that is inextricably tied to our creative economy and film industry. Preserve the very culture, character and community which makes it inspiring for all who live here.

Thank you for your time and review of this important matter. Again, please do not approve this motion. Ensuring our cultural resources, and historic residential neighborhoods are protected, is essential to the local, state, national and international cultural community – this needs to be prioritized. Preserving our past, ensures our future.

Thank you.

Sincerely,

Elizabeth A. Lovins

Dear Honorable Councilmembers,

Thank you for all the great work you do and I'm hoping you can help our city today.

It's imperative that the current housing element not be passed today. If passed, this would be egregious and irreversible mistake as it ensures that Hollywood will soon be extinct. Again, please do not accept or approve this current Housing Element version, as it is today.

Please PROTECT our Cultural resources, known throughout the world. This destruction of Hollywood and threats to our designated National Historic Hollywood District, and other historic landmarks, is unacceptable. It's criminal. What's next, City Hall?

Perhaps you didn't realize what you were doing. Fortunately, it's not too late. YOU CAN CORRECT this mistake today. Please make the following (3) corrections:

Dear Lambert and Melissa,

Hope you are doing well!

I am deeply saddened to see the historic Pig 'n Whistle, vandalized and destroyed in this way. This is very personal to me, as my records show that my grandfather, Henry Lovins, designed the original facade of this site and probably did the original interior decor as well.

As Hollywood landmarks, were created by many early Jewish Hollywood pioneers, I hope that this cultural and urban erasure will be halted, especially on already designated historic landmarks. This owner must be held accountable, fined and required to restore this site to its original condition. This is unacceptable.

Please advise on what is being done and what can be done to remedy this situation.

Thank you so much!

Case No. CHC-2021-5125-HCM
Property Address : 3421 - 3423 South Catalina Street

Dear Heritage Commission

My name is Hyoshin Yoon.

I am a president of the Coalition of Preserving the Hung Sa Dahn Building and a chairperson of the Korean National Association Memorial Foundation.

My name is Kyungwon Suh.

I am a chairperson of the Commission of Hung Sa Dahn, USA.

There was one more person; Late MyungKi Hong. He passed away at the age of 86 on August 8th, 2021 while actively involved in preserving the Hung Sa Dahn Building as a chairperson of Dosan Ahn Chang Ho Memorial Foundation of America.

Dosan Ahn Chang Ho is a remarkable independence activist known to the Korean-American community and to all Koreans in the Republic of Korea. He immigrated with his wife, Lee Hye Ryon(Helen) to study the field of Education in San Francisco. After the Japanese government's annexation of the Korean Peninsula in 1910, he became an independence activist.

He was a founder of the Korean National Association(1909)and Hung Sa Dahn(1913). He left Los Angeles to China to become involved in the Korean Provisional Government in China in 1926 and died in March,1938 after being tortured during imprisonment.

Early Korean independence activists purchased the property of 3421 S. Catalina Street in 1932 for Hung Sa Dahn headquarters. Even though Dosan Ahn Chang Ho wasn't with members of the Hung Sa Dahn, Hung Sa Dahn members continued his legacy to save the motherland, Korea, in this property till 1945.

The wife of Dosan Ahn Chang-ho, Hye-Ryon Ahn and their five children attended the Hung Sa Dahn annual conferences on behalf of their father from 1933 to 1966.

The government of Republic of Korea selected Hye Ryon Ahn as a meritorious person for Independence Movement in 2008 and Philip Ahn (the eldest son of Dosan Ahn Chang-ho, a movie actor), who appeared at the Hung Sa Dahn Building with her mother and gave a speech for Korean Independence, was chosen by the Korean government as a meritorious person for Independence Movement in 2021.

Unfortunately, his grandson, Philip Cuddy is against the designation of Hung Sa Dahn as a Historic Cultural Monument. John Cha, who only lives in San Francisco, worked to publish a biography of Susan Ahn Cuddy as a literature translator. He is neither a researcher of Dosan Ahn Chang Ho nor a historian of the Korean Independence Movement.

This Catalina property of Hung Sa Dahn was purchased by early Korean Independence Activists in 1932 and the building of the Korean National Association was built in West Jefferson Blvd. in 1938. The Hung Sa Dahn leaders following Dosan Ahn Chang Ho's legacy were leaders of the Korean National Association as well.

The Korean National Association Memorial Hall has already been designated as Los Angeles Historic and Cultural Site No. 548 in 1991. The house where the Dosan family lived became Historic Site No. 1059 in 2013.

The Korean American community is really eager to see the Hung Sa Dahn Building as a Historic - Cultural Monument.

We request that the Hung Sa Dahn Building becomes a historic site so that we can continue to learn about Dosan Ahn Chang-Ho's legacy through the Korean Independence Movement and the history of Hung Sa Dahn in Los Angeles.

Sincerely,

Hyoshin Yoon, Kyungwon Suh

The Preservation of Hung Sa Dahn
(CHC-2021-5125-HCM)

Dear Heritage Commissioners,

Revered and national leader Dosan Ahn Changho immigrated to the United States in 1902. There, he founded the Young Korean Academy in San Francisco and made Los Angeles its headquarters. The Korean Young Academy, along with the Korean National Association, was at the forefront of the Korean Independence Movement.

In 1926, Dosan Ahn Changho left for China to advocate for the Korean Independence Movement, and then-members of the Young Korean Academy moved its headquarters to a building near USC, located at 3421 South Catalina Street. Academy members actively participated in the Korean Independence Movement until 1945, the year of Korean independence.

I had worked for the main office of Korea Times until 1973, when I came to Los Angeles for further study. From 1974, I worked at the Los Angeles bureau of the same newspaper. For 25 years, until 1999, I interviewed countless early Korean immigrants to Hawaii and Korean Independence Movement activists while working as a reporter for Korea Times.

In particular, I wrote a series of articles and published a book on the Korean National Association and leaders of the Young Korean Academy. From 1976 to 1984, many early Korean immigrants who contributed to the Korean Independence Movement were still alive.

Additionally, in the fall of 1977, I visited the office of the Young Korean Academy, at 3421 South Catalina Street, and met long-time members of the Academy. As a reporter, I covered the history of the Independence Movement and Dosan Ahn Changho's historical acts. I also heard about the early Korean immigrants' contributions to the Korean Independence Movement from the family members of Dosan Ahn Changho, who founded the Young Korean Academy.

The Young Korean Academy is the second most important building associated with the Korean Independence Movement, only after the building located at 1368 West Jefferson Boulevard, which was the North American headquarters of the Korean National Association.

Southern California, the home to 500,000 Korean Americans, is the land of the Korean Independence Movement.

The Korean American community will obtain the Historical-Cultural Monument designation for the Young Korean Academy building and will preserve it with pride. We will educate the third, fourth, fifth generations of Korean Americans, who are making great contributions to mainstream American society, about the Young Korean Academy's storied historical place in the Korean Independence Movement.

I sincerely hope that you would help the Korean American community in our effort to preserve the Young Korean Academy building as a historical-cultural monument of the proud history of Los Angeles. I request as a former journalist for your help in saving this early historical building from being demolished and preserving it for our posterity.

Sincerely,

Pyong Yong Min
Former Chief Editor, Korea Times, US Headquarters (1984-1988)

Dear Mr Min.

As the son of Dosan Ahn Chang Ho and Hye Ron Ahn, and on behalf of the Dosan family.

We endorse the preservation of the Hung Sa Dan building.

It was the institution that housed the Korean American Pioneers who carried on the the struggle for Korean Independence during the occupation of the Japanese Empire.

The Hung Sa Dan not only contributed to Korean Independence but is credited for establishing a Democratic Republic government in South Korea today.

Memorandum of my responses and retort to the documents and letters Mr. Benjamin Reznik of Jeffer Mangels Butler & Mitchell, LLP law firm submitted to LA City Cultural Heritage Commission on October 12, 2021, in regards to CASE No. 2021-5125-HCM, PROPERTY ADDRESS: 3421-3423 South Catalina Street, Los Angeles.

My background and credential:

- Born and raised in Korea, a naturalized U.S. citizen, age, 84;
- B. A., MPA & Ph.D. degrees from the University of Southern California;
- Held a professorship at Cal State Fresno's political science dept. since 1969, and retired as an emeritus in 2011;
- A member of Hung Sa Dahn, Young Korean Academy since 1960 (hereafter YKA);
- Refer to my written 7-page testimony of my experiences with the YKA property and events that occurred therein entitled "A Journey of My Memories of Hung Sa Dahn/Yung Korean Academy (1959-2021)" I submitted to Korean National Association Memorial Foundation to aid the latter's effort to save Hung Sa Dahn/Young Korean Academy lodge from demolition on June 14, 2021;
- Founded Central California Korean Historical Society in Fresno in 2002 to study and preserve the history of the early Korean U.S. immigrants who settled in California's Central Valley to work on farms mostly as farm hands; their graves, artifacts, still remaining; erected a score of monuments in their memory;
- Published a book about it, "Koreans in Central California (1903-1957): A Study of Settlement and Transnational Politics" by University Press of America, 2010;

- Published a research article in English, “Ethical Values and Social Change: Mahatma Gandhi, Martin Luther King, Jr., and Dosan Ahn Chang Ho”, in Korean Social Science Journal (2013), 40:101-111;
- Published a book, “Tell Me About the YKA,” an English primer of the YKA values and principles, Los Angeles, California: A Young Korean Academy Publication, 2018.
- Currently working on a book length manuscript for publication, entitled, “Ethical Leaders of the Century: Mahatma Gandhi, Dosan Ahn Chang Ho and Martin Luther King, Jr.”

Prefatory Remark:

For Dosan establishing YKA in 1913 in San Francisco was to bring up socially contributing members of the society trained and cultivated in the values of justice, freedom and equality. That is, the values and ideas that embody democracy. Hence, Dosan’s goal via YKA: to transplant democracy in Korea. True, he said to stay away from politics. What he meant was partisan politics: taking sides, getting into political squabble, and grandstanding. Democracy is more than political institutions and practices. It is a way of life. To Dosan, thusly, teaching and training one how to live his/her private as well as public life democratically was his objective. Calling Hung Sa Dahn in English Young Korean Academy is to refer to a gathering of newly transformed people ready to live democracy. A fresh start, hence, young. No matter one’s chronological age!

1. Reznik’s letter states: “none of the significant independence activities associated with the Hung sa Dahn occurred at the property”

First of all, how do you know? I, for one, attended many meetings at the property, where the attendees and speakers talked about where Korea was going as a nation and how YKA could make an impact. If this is not a political act, what is it? When you speak out at a political party meeting wearing a badge, is that the only political act? I totally disagree.

2. On second page, Reznik states, the property was not constructed by, or for the Hungsadhan---not connected with historically significant or notable YKA events.

I am flabbergasted. Not constructed for YKA use, then, for whom and what? Absolutely not! With my life on line, let me testify that a number of notable events took place (refer to my “A Journey---”) in the bldg. YKA file cabinet, chairs, out of town participants’ living quarters were all there. I saw them and attended meetings. This charge is absolutely false.

3. Let me move to John Cha’s letter because Reznik quotes and relies on him.

At the outset, Cha says that the current owner of the property has retained him as a resource consultant. My question: is he being paid? How much? Please answer it forthrightly! If you pay someone to speak in your behalf, how credible would his/her views be?

4. Cha claims that he is an authority on YKA and Dosan.

Let him cite his works. In my last count, there are sixteen well researched books on Dosan plus numerous monographs, articles and papers. I have not seen any authored by John Cha. Translating Dosan's daughter's work into English does not qualify him to be an authority on YKA and Dosan. I have a serious doubt about his claim being a Dosan researcher and know-all about Dosan family.

5. Cha's confusion about politics and political activities.

Cha claims politics did not take place at YKA; it occurred at the next door, Korean National Association (KNA) building. Given overlapping membership between the two organizations, he claims that all political acts took place at KNA bldg. Politics and political activities are physical manifestation of a stream of political consciousness that you may carry from your bedroom to your boardroom. It is not a clear cut situation. Cha's is an argument for an argument's sake. This kind of logic does not carry much water. (I have been a lifelong YKA member but never joined KNA). I was pretty much political at YKA, when I was carrying on my activities at YKA that took place at the property.

6. Take a notice of the following statistic.

The Korean Ministry of Patriots and Veterans Affairs posthumously honor those whom it judges to have significantly contributed to the cause of the Korean independence with Korean patriotic medals. This recognition carries an important privilege. It entitles the medalists' descendants to an annual living stipend (a credible sum of money) from the Korean government: a token of gratitude and appreciation to the family's sacrifices. As of August 2021, a total of 300 men and women were awarded with this honor from the ranks of the now deceased Korean American expatriates. Of this total, 80 are YKA members, about a quarter. They include Dosan's wife, Helen Ahn. So does Dosan's first son, Philip Ahn, a well known Hollywood actor. Both did indeed sacrifice their personal pleasures and luxuries to support her husband, and his father who was always away from the family. Helen was YKA member as was Philip, who held a special status membership. Both were not the KNA type of political activists which Cha implies qualifies them to have engaged in politics. How come then the Korean government which should know better has recognized them to be worthy of the medals?

7. A question about the blood relatives' or descendants' objectivity.

Reznik, et al and the property owner seem to take Dosan's blood relations with credibility. Somehow when it comes from the family, it must be true and believable. Somebody else outside of the family must have an agenda, whereas the family members may not? Not necessarily so. Philip Cuddy's argument depends on how you look at it. It is a public knowledge of the fact that Cuddy objected in the past as he does now to every single thing his uncle Dosan's last son, Ralph Ahn, was for and supported. This time is no different. He and his sister object, again! (Refer to Ralph Ahn's letter of support and endorsement of YKA property's historical designation). Family feud takes on public façade. Is it coincidence? The Commissioners, think about it.

8. Thank you note.

I would like to recognize the property owner's thoughtfulness of offering a space to erect a marker or tribute piece in honor of Dosan and YKA should the Commissioners' decision be made in his favor. Thank you but this is not an iota our goal. Nonetheless, thanks.

9. Capital or profit vs. public interest

I value the capital's role. We enormously benefit from it. Public interest has its place, too. Granting YKA property a historical designation calls for a careful weighing on the part of the Commissioners of capital and profit against public interest. Hope you all make a right decision.

10. A query to the Commission

Once your decision is made, is there a way for the aggrieved party to appeal your decision for reconsideration? Or is there a way to file grievances? Thank you.

Dear Members of the Cultural Heritage Commission,

Please let this serve as my day of hearing submission on item 7 of the Cultural Heritage Commission's meeting today in support of the historic cultural designation of Hung Sa Dahn located at 3421-3423 South Catalina Street.

I strongly support and urge this commission to recommend that the city council designate this property as a historic cultural monument.

I write to you as a non-party to the application and a member of the general public. I have no financial interest in the outcome of this application. I write as a Korean American and an Angeleno who wants his children and their children to learn about and celebrate their cultural identity; to know that they have a place here and belong here in Los Angeles and the United States as true Americans; to know that others like them struggled here before. My identity influenced my decision to become an attorney and to participate in public service including my service on the Mid City West Neighborhood Council for nearly 8 years.

This building and its historic and cultural significance to the Korean American identity and the Korean American journey is unique and irreplaceable. This building is not just about the present owner or even about Mr. Ahn or his family's personal issues with the property. This goes far beyond any one or two individuals--this building goes to the heart of the collective ethnic and political identity and history of Korean Americans as a community in the United States of America.

This building is an integral part of a story--a uniquely American story--of how a community started its roots in Los Angeles and America. To simply allow the owner to provide a plaque in commemoration would do a grave injustice to show the complete picture of the humble beginnings of the Korean American story. Allowing this story not to be preserved would allow a thread to come undone and to allow the fabric of this story to fall apart and be forgotten.

The story remains inadequately told and this commission and the City has an opportunity here to help this story be remembered and told for future generations to come.

Growing up in Northern California, I never knew about this story. And, it was not for a lack of trying. I was the president of the Asian American Students' Association at Stanford University and an organizer of a national Korean American Students' Conference in 1999. I took Asian American studies classes and yet this story was not told as a part of the curriculum. This story should be cherished, preserved, remembered and widely shared.

Similar to the Chinese Massacre of 1871 here in Los Angeles, I hope this chapter in Los Angeles' story will not be allowed to be swept under the rug and forgotten.

Please support the historic cultural designation of Hung Sa Dahn located at 3421-3423 South Catalina Street. Thank you.

Dear honorable Cultural Heritage Commissioners,

My name is Byoung Lee. I strongly support the designation of Hung Sa Dahn Building as a Historic Cultural Monument.

The HungSaDahn building was host to an annual conference held by other HungSaDahn branches in the Americas. The wife of Dosan Ahn Chang-ho: Hye-ryun Lee, and their five children attended on behalf of their father. It is the historic headquarters of the HungSaDahn Division of the United States, an organization with branches across the world, where prominent Korean American leaders fought for independence (1928-1945) in Los Angeles.

After the establishment of the Korean government in 1948, it is a building where excellent students from Korea were allowed to stay to study at universities such as UCLA and USC. The building also served as a home for Korean-American businessmen and entrepreneurs, including Baek Young-joong, the American Korean steel industry businessman, and Hong Myung-ki, an entrepreneur in the paint industry. As a home for prominent and successful Korean-Americans throughout past decades, the HungSaDahn building deserves recognition as a cultural historic monument.

Please approve the nomination of the Hung Sa Dahn Building as a Historic-Cultural Monument.

Dear honorable Cultural Heritage Commissioners,

My name is (Byungsu Yoo). I strongly support the designation of Hung Sa Dahn Building as a Historic Cultural Monument.

In the 118-year history of Korean immigrants (1903-2021), the Hung Sa Dahn was the home for youth education, talent training, and the Korean independence movement. The building was first purchased by Korean migrants in Los Angeles in 1932.

After Ahn Chang-ho, the founder of Hung Sa Dahn, left for Shanghai to support the independence movement in 1926, the HungSaDahn building remained the headquarters where early national leaders continued the independence movement with the Korean National Association until 1945. This is the building where all Koreans gathered to run a lifesaving campaign when Dosan Ahn Chang-ho was arrested while fighting for independence in Shanghai in April 1932. Throughout its existence, the HungSaDahn building has served as a hub for the Korean-American community's growth and development within the surrounding area. The building was crucial to the success of Dosan Ahn Chang-ho's efforts to strengthen the Korean-American community, and should be recognized as such, immortalizing the legacy of Dosan Ahn Chang-ho.

Please approve the nomination of the Hung Sa Dahn Building as a Historic-Cultural Monument.

Thank you.

Dear honorable Cultural Heritage Commissioners,

My name is Carolyn Lim Bates. I am a resident of Los Angeles and a member of the Los Angeles Korean Community.

My grandfather, Choon Ki Lim, who came to the U.S. in 1903, worked alongside Dosan Ahn Chang-ho and other patriots at the Hung Sa Dahn building towards the pursuit of Korean independence.

This building has been emblematic of the growth of the Korean American community in Los Angeles.

As the daughter of an architect, I understand the importance of buildings as cultural touch stones.

I strongly support the designation of Hung Sa Dahn Building as a Historic Cultural Monument.

Dear Cultural Heritage Commissioners,

My name is Flora Chou. I am a Cultural Resource Planner with Page & Turnbull and lead author on the "Korean Americans in Los Angeles, 1905-1980" historic context statement for SurveyLA. I also led and contributed to the statewide "Asian Americans and Pacific Islanders in California, 1850-1970" National Register multiple property submission, which included Korean Americans in California. In doing the research for both these contexts, it was clear the Hung Sa Dahn was an important organization for the pioneering generation of Koreans who first came to the United States, and Southern California specifically, in the early 20th century.

The Hung Sa Dahn has been at the property on South Catalina Avenue since 1929 (as additional research for the HCM nomination uncovered), and in a neighborhood that came to have a concentration of Korean residents so that by the late 1930s, the Korean National Association headquarters and the Korean Presbyterian Church were both built at nearby Jefferson Boulevard. The photographs of the organization's annual meetings in front of the property helped to confirm that 3421 South Catalina Avenue was the location of the Hung Sa Dahn, and that the property still had integrity.

In my professional opinion, the property at 3421 South Catalina Avenue is eligible for listing as a Historic-Cultural Monument for its association with the Hung San Dahn as an important organization to the early Korean American community in Los Angeles.

Thank you for your consideration,

City of Los Angeles Mail - Support Hung Sa Dahn Historic-Cultural Monument

[Quoted text hidden]

November 3, 2021

Office of Historic Resources
Department of City Planning
221 N. Figueroa St, Ste. 1350
Los Angeles, CA 90012

Greetings,

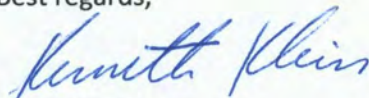

I am writing in support of the proposal to block the demolition of the historic Hungsadan building at 3421-3423 South Catalina Street and to designate it as an historic cultural monument.

I served on the Los Angeles Citywide Historic Context Statement Advisory Committee. During our meetings, the Committee split into individual ethnic group subcommittees; I joined the one for the Korean American community, charged with proposing buildings and sites within Los Angeles City (and County) that ought to be protected and preserved. As I recall, the first site mentioned and agreed upon by all of us was the former Hungsadan headquarters.

In addition to being a distinctive craftsman-style house, the building served as the center for the organization from 1929 to 1979, spanning the periods of the Korean Independence Movement, the Pacific War, the Liberation/Occupation of the immediate postwar, the Korean War and the first decade and a half following the armistice between the North and the South. Throughout, the Hungsadan continued to promote its founding principles of building a society of upright and responsible Korean citizens. In this, they honored ideals important to Americans, even while often enduring treatment here that fell short of those ideals. The Hungsadan had been founded by Ahn Chang Ho, but the person who best represented the continuation of his and the organization's legacy during most of the period of those five decades was his wife, Hae Ryon (Lee) Kim.

Today's Korean community in Los Angeles has revitalized a part of the city that had been, for many years, a rather transient community (I myself grew up in the area of 8th and Vermont). Over the past fifty years, Koreatown has become one of the city's most vibrant communities. It is important, however, that the Korean community—and the city as a whole—be reminded that Korean Americans have been making important contributions here in Los Angeles long before the 1970s. Preservation of the Hungsadan building as an historic monument, especially in close proximity to the KNA Building on Jefferson Blvd, will help to guarantee that those contributions and the people who made them are not forgotten.

Dear honorable Cultural Heritage Commissioners,

My name is Myunghoon Jeon. I strongly support the designation of Hung Sa Dahn Building as a Historic Cultural Monument.

In the 118-year history of Korean immigrants (1903-2021), the Hung Sa Dahn was the home for youth education, talent training, and the Korean independence movement. The building was first purchased by Korean migrants in Los Angeles in 1932.

After Ahn Chang-ho, the founder of Hung Sa Dahn, left for Shanghai to support the independence movement in 1926, the HungSaDahn building remained the headquarters where early national leaders continued the independence movement with the Korean National Association until 1945. This is the building where all Koreans gathered to run a lifesaving campaign when Dosan Ahn Chang-ho was arrested while fighting for independence in Shanghai in April 1932. Throughout its existence, the HungSaDahn building has served as a hub for the Korean-American community's growth and development within the surrounding area. The building was crucial to the success of Dosan Ahn Chang-ho's efforts to strengthen the Korean-American community, and should be recognized as such, immortalizing the legacy of Dosan Ahn Chang-ho.

Please approve the nomination of the Hung Sa Dahn Building as a Historic-Cultural Monument.

Thank you.

To Whom It May Concern:

I write to strongly support the nomination of Hung Sa Dahn as a Historic-Cultural Monument.

The property served as the longtime headquarters of the Young Korean Academy or 'Hung Sa Dahn,' a highly significant Korean American civic organization established by Dosan Ahn Chang Ho who is a singularly important figure at the local, state, and national level as well as in modern Korean history. The property is currently threatened with demolition as part of a proposed redevelopment project at the site.

We should not lose this important piece of Korean-American history.

Sincerely,
Patricia Morton

Dear Council Members,

Paul Revere Williams was one of the most talented and important architects Los Angeles has ever had. It would be so meaningful to preserve his own house to help tell his story. Please help preserve this treasure by naming it a historic-cultural monument.

Thank you,

Summary: The Empowerment Congress North Area Neighborhood Development Council (NANDC) Board discussed the above referenced site at their August 5, 2021, Board meeting and adopted the recommendation by unanimous motion: That NANDC support the cultural heritage nomination for the Paul Williams residence at 1271 W. 35th Street The Paul Revere Williams House is eligible for designation as a Historic-Cultural Monument under Criterion 2 of the Cultural Heritage Ordinance within the context of Architecture and African American history in Los Angeles for its association with Williams. By any measure, the accomplishments of this trailblazing architect are astounding. In a career spanning almost six decades, Williams designed more than 3,000 buildings and mastered a range of architectural styles. He broke racial barriers, becoming the first African American member and fellow of the American Institute of Architects (AIA) in the United States. While Williams was developing professionally, his personal life was also blossoming. In 1917, he married Della Mae Givens. By 1921 they had saved enough money to purchase their own home on 35th Street. The neighborhood was home to a large Black community, in large part because it was free of the restrictive covenants that blanketed most of Los Angeles. The HCM nomination qualifies as an HCM and deserves designation so that it may join his other designs holding this prestigious designation such as the Angelus Funeral Home, the Founder's Church of Religious Science and The Golden State Mutual Life Insurance Building to name a few

Hello Friends,

In a time when our histories are being (newly) uncovered, amplified, and celebrated, it is most important that we take these actions for all. Black architects are wildly underrepresented not only historically, but also presently, and as a woman, I empathize with fellow minorities within the profession. Paul Revere Williams is an icon, not only for the work he produced or because of the color of his skin in a time of profound whiteness, but also for his love of and dedication to the City of Los Angeles. To preserve the memories and legacy of his home is to preserve the idea of 'home' – without it, who would he have been? Who would any of us be without what makes our houses our homes? His work was borne out of tireless effort and unparalleled commitment to the discipline of architecture – and those pieces of him, of his character, are deeply embedded within this space.

It is imperative that Paul Revere Williams be remembered as much and as often as possible, and to celebrate his life and the life he shared with his wife Della Mae in this home. I urge you to consider it as Los Angeles' newest Historic-Cultural Monument.

Thank you,

Ashley Morgan Hastings

Hello,

My name is Andrea Rojas and I am writing to urge the Commission to list the property at 1271 West 35th Street as a historic landmark. I am a constituent of CD8 and know how much the history of Paul R. Williams means to the neighborhood and overall South Los Angeles. This property is a testament to the challenges he faced, but also to the amazing history he left behind.

Despite the fact that he was among the more prominent architects in California, if not the United States, until 1951 he was prevented from designing and living in his own dream home. The vast challenges he overcame and the extraordinary achievements he made during an era of racial injustice has inspired generations of architects.

The simple Craftsman style house at 1271 West 35th Street helps tell the important story of architect Paul Revere Williams and should be preserved so that we tell his full story and understand the challenges he overcame.

Thank you.

I am writing in support of listing the Paul R. Williams home at 1271 W. 35th Street as a historic-cultural monument.

Although Mr. Williams is highly regarded as one of the most prominent architects in the country, because of prevailing racist policies at that time, the iconic architect was not allowed to live in what would have been his dream home.

It is my hope that the Cultural Historic Commission will honor Paul R. Williams with a historic listing.

Sincerely,

Barbara Morgan

Dear Councilmember Harris-Dawson & Cultural Heritage Commission of Los Angeles,

As a resident of District 8, I am deeply concerned to hear about the sale & potential demolition of 1271 W 35th st.

This property is an overlooked & unrecognized Historical Cultural Landmark and should be recognized as such. Paul Revere Williams is a trailblazing prominent California architect who has also been overlooked, and his home is representative of the complex history of this neighborhood as well as his contributions to American architecture. Due to racial prejudice he was prevented from designing & living in his own home until 1951. 1271 W 35th st should be preserved as a monument to his legacy and the history & culture of this neighborhood which has yet to be fully recognized.

Thank you for your time and I hope you consider this plea from the residents of this district & neighborhood.

Thank you,

Connor Hurley

All

This email is in reference to the Paul Revere Williams House located at 1271 West 35th Street in Los Angeles, California.

It is my understanding that this house is for sale and possibly under consideration for demolition. Instead of being demolished, this house should be deemed as a cultural moment within the City of Los Angeles. Paul Williams made history as the first black architect in the Los Angeles area and contributed to many of the architectural wonders (both commercial and residential buildings) in the area. He was truly an American icon and his life and work should be honored with other historical figures in the Los Angeles area, and frankly throughout the world. I am sure that I am not the only one requesting that his residence be honored in this fashion; however, I wanted to express my objection to the dismantling of this part of history. With the events that have taken place over the past year, it should be a top priority for the city of Los Angeles to preserve all monuments of history as they pertain to people of color and others who have contributed to the evolution of Los Angeles, California.

Please feel free to contact me at 323-356-4908 if there is anyway that I can assist with this issue.

Thank You

Members of the Cultural Heritage Commission:

It is critical that we preserve and care for the touchstones of our past. Paul Revere Williams House certainly qualifies as a telescope into our recent past. Our children and their children need to be able to see and appreciate Paul Revere Williams' home. Movies and television pick and choose the way our culture is presented. We are fortunate to view Laurel and Hardy films that inadvertently capture a California that has for the most part disappeared. This moment is the rare opportunity to capture the real thing.

Hi there -

Paul Revere Williams is one of the main arteries that flows through and is interwoven throughout the fabric of L.A.'s cultural DNA.

His remarkable story is as historic as his significant contributions that shaped our city and identity. Therefore, preserving his home not only shares his story, but expands on an even bigger one of building Los Angeles.

Preserving his home, preserves our history.

Many thanks,

Mischa
