Hi Johnny,

[REDACTED] I'm not back until Tuesday, but I need to prepare a PVP presentation for Tuesday morning. Can you please email me the documents from Holly's email below so I can work on it? This includes the PVP presentation template and if you could please go into the 1045 Olive project folder and send me any aerials, plans, or renderings that would be super helpful.

THANK YOU! And hope you enjoy the long weekend! :)

Milena-

There's a PVP template at: P:\Share\Urban Design Studio\PVP templates (also the Project Info sheet which we recently radically simplified from the earlier version).

I believe it's pretty much the CPC format, so it's not something we make you duplicate. (Claire's considering a separate, UDS one but I'll try to discourage this line of thought.) :)

Hi, I'll prepare the ppt for the 21st. I looked through the technical bulletin, but don't think I saw a specific format for the ppt? Is there a format that's preferred or we can organize however we see fit? I assume it would include: vicinity photos / street view / site plan / floor plans / elevations / landscape / any specific issues.

Now that UDS' interns are no longer preparing the .ppts for PVP we've been asking to meet with project planners prior to PVP, just to answer any questions about the meeting format or the .ppt. That being said, you're a grownup and many if not most senior staff simply ignore this request. ;)

I see you've already uploaded the project info sheet and plans--and, sorry, just now read the red-text warning about not including the project address, name, etc. in e-mails--so I'll be able to familiarize myself with the project using those materials.

Only thing I will ask is that you upload your .ppt by near the c.o.b. on Monday, the 21st. We've been editing the presentations (we have 3 that day) into a single file and find that helps things run more smoothly on the day-of. Use the same folder for this purpose:
dept2/Share/Urban Design Studio/PVP/104...

Thanks!
