Dear Sean:

The WHCA will be holding its annual meeting on October 5th starting at 6:00pm.

The meeting will be a virtual one taking place on Google Meet.

David Ryu will be our principal guest speaker.

We are very much interest in having a presentation on all the development projects still in the pipeline in Hollywood.

We all know about the controversial Hollywood Center project, however there are many other major projects, the status of which we would like to know.

These would include the Palladium Towers, the Crossroads of the World, the large building slated for Wilcox and Hollywood Blvd, the two towers across from each other where Amoeba Records and the Jack in the Box are located, etc.

We would be interested in knowing the anticipated start dates for these projects as well as the expected duration of construction.

Our intent here is to have an informative presentation, not a grape session.

We are wondering if you would be able to make this presentation or suggest someone else who could?

Please let me know.

Sincerely yours,

Carl Peter Ripaldi
VP/WHCA
