Hi Inger,

Your team member has arrived. Apparently, he had a tire blow out on the freeway. He is here now and the important thing is that he is alright.

Thank you for following up.

Hi Inger,

I received your voice message. I think when we spoke on the phone upon my inquiry at NCR's late arrival, it was clear the appointment was from 10:00 A.M. to 11:00 A.M. I did, however, find your comparison of NCR to the cable company humorous.

In any case, I have rescheduled my next appointment and had to forego attending a public hearing in expectation of this appointment. It is now 11:00 and NCR is not here. The reason I schedule appointments is due to the fact that on several occasions, I have had two individuals come into the office to make copies of the same document at the same time. We strive to make all documents accessible to the public in a timely manner and appointments are the most efficient tool to help us accomplish this goal.

Hopefully, you will be able to secure the documents you desire. I am happy to schedule a subsequent appointment with your team. Just let me know if the need arises.

Kind regards,

Elva

Thank you!

My name is Inger Echeverria and I am Linda Bernhardt's assistant from Amboo. She would like to move forward and make copies for the above captioned matter for today or tomorrow, but would prefer to have this done today.
