HOLLYWOOD CENTER LOOKS FORWARD

Since we've last checked in, Hollywood has been the center of much attention with the opening of "Once Upon A Time...in Hollywood" showcasing the Hollywood of years past and the beginning of the Hollywood Bowl's Summer Season showcasing the vibrancy of Hollywood today.

The Hollywood Center project continues to move ahead unabated, with the team working on the technical and environmental plans required for project review. We remain steadfast in our commitment to responding to the City's pressing need for more housing while providing an elegant design and environmental sustainability. Just as the Hollywood Bowl brings activation and buzz to the area every summer, we continue our work to bring that same level of excitement and activation to the eastern edge of Hollywood permanently.

We have been proud and active members of the Hollywood community for the last decade, and we look forward to finally bringing this vitally important project to fruition.
