Hi Phoenix,

Attachments are always included as part of the original email with which they are sent. The times when members of the public have reached out to me about this, I find they are often looking at a later email responding to the one to which the attachment was included. In those instances, I have always responded with an explanation and the correct link.

If you have specific examples you can provide, I would be happy to look into it further; however, as it stands the City has not been editing communications.

Regards,

Hi Mindy. Thanks for your quick reply.

The City already has a system to provide this information. The information was already available in the original form of attachments when emails were sent to you. The problem continues to be the your removal of these documents and editing communications.

We have already seen several instances where you receive an email with an attachment, yet the attachment has been omitted. When a member of the public inquires about this, the attachment has managed to magically appear in the record. This is the problem. Do you understand the difference? Please refrain from removing the attachments from the emails you receive.

The City taking their time so they can go through documentation and communications so they can decide what the public can and cannot see is a very serious issue Mindy. These are public documents and must be made available to the public within a reasonable amount of time. Not after all of the public hearings. Communications on this project go back to 2018. You've had more than enough time to make these documents available to the public.

My neighbors and I will be sending the City Attorney's office a letter on this issue. After they take no action, we will be sending this information to the FBI.

Enjoy the rest of your weekend.

Phoenix.

Hi Phoenix,

Thank you for your email. The City is working on making the provided email archives accessible to the public and will include them in the record once that process is complete.

Dear Mindy:

There's several emails on the website that give you links to archives of email communications per your request. What is your suggestion as to how the public accesses the information in those links or zip files? Can you please make these communications available as they are a matter of public record? I've provided a couple examples below.

This one says email correspondence is attached, but there is no attachment. This is a recurring issue people are running into. Please do not remove the attachments from the emails you receive.
