Property type:	Landscape
Property sub type:	Landscaped Median
Criteria:	A/1/1&C/3/3
Status code:	3S;3CS;5S3
Reason:	Excellent and unique example of a designed landscape in Los Feliz, developed as the primary public access route to Griffith Park, the city's largest public park. Features of this landscape include the winding street pattern; landscaped medians and parkways; mature Moreton Bay fig, coral and other street trees; and period lampposts. This landscape was designed by nationally-significant landscape architect Wilbur D. Cook; among Cook's designs are the 1893 Columbian Exposition in Chicago, the US Capitol grounds in 1902, and Balboa Park for the 1913 Panama-California Exposition in San Diego. Locally, Cook designed the master plan for the City of Beverly Hills, Palos Verdes Estates, and Exposition Park. Today, this designed landscape is a defining feature of the surrounding Los Feliz neighborhood.
