WE ARE HERE

Starting in 2023

Listen

Conduct background research, data collection, and field visits to evaluate existing conditions.

Develop educational materials that make the planning process more accessible.

Share

Draft plan goals and vision. Develop land use concepts that envision different ways the community could grow and develop in the future.

Consult

Refine land use concepts. Select General Plan Land Use Designations (GPLUs).

Begin the Environmental Review process to identify potential impacts of the proposed plan.

Refine

Release Draft GPLU Map, Zoning Map, Policy Document, and Environmental Impact Report for public review.

Adopt

Host a general public hearing, followed by hearings with the City Planning Commission, Planning Land Use Management Committee, and full City Council.

PUBLIC ENGAGEMENT OPPORTUNITIES

Learn foundational planning topics to help create a shared community vision for the future of your neighborhood.

Give input to inform the plan goals and land use concepts that would best align with the community vision.

Provide feedback on revised land use concepts, including how land should be used and what new developments should look like.

Review and provide feedback on the draft maps and plan documents.

Attend public hearings to provide public comment.

Comments are documented as contributions to the plan.

Note: General public comments are welcome continually until the Plan is adopted by City Council. To contact the ESFV TNP Team, please email planning.esfvtnp@lacity.org.
