- California cities are required to update the Housing Element every 8 years and meet their Regional Housing Needs Assessment (RHNA)
- Los Angeles must plan for 456,643 dwelling units (including 184,721 lower income units)
- Cities must identify enough suitable sites for new housing to meet its RHNA (i.e. Inventory of Adequate Sites (Appendix 4.1))

- If there's insufficient sites then cities must "rezone" with particular requirements for sites needed to meet the Lower Income Rezoning need

Summary of the Housing Element Sites Ordinance

- The proposed ordinance is designed to fulfill state Housing Element law requirements for different types of sites identified in the 2021-2029 Housing Element (Appendix 4.1) and in its Rezoning Program. These types of sites include:
 - Inventory of Adequate Sites (Appendix 4.1)
 - Sites Identified in Prior Housing Element Site Inventories (column P, Appendix 4.1)
 - Lower Income Rezoning Sites
- Housing Elements Sites Ordinance provisions:
 - Housing Replacement

An ordinance amending Chapter 1 and Chapter 1A of the Los Angeles Municipal Code (LAMC), including adding Section(s) 16.70 of Chapter 1 and amending Section 12.10, 12.11, 12.12 for the purpose of establishing reasonable regulations regarding affordable housing development, codifying housing replacement requirements, and to comply with state housing law.

THE PEOPLE OF THE CITY OF LOS ANGELES

Sec. 1. Section 16.70 of Chapter 1 of the the Los Angeles Municipal Code is added to read as follows:

SEC. 16.70. HOUSING ELEMENT SITES

These regulations shall apply to the Inventory of Housing Element Sites, Prior Housing Element Sites and Lower Income Rezoning Sites and where so stated herein shall supersede the regulations applying in the sites pursuant to state law.

B. Definitions. For purposes of this Subdivision the following words and phrases are defined as follows:

Housing Replacement and No Net Loss Findings

- In addition to the same housing replacement requirements outlined in the concurrently proposed Resident Protection Ordinance State law mandates that all cities ensure a continuous availability of adequate sites for housing throughout the housing element planning period.
 - The designated sites are listed in the City's Housing Element's Inventory of Adequate Sites for Housing (Appendix 4.1)
 - Each site contains a specific number of units allocated to various income categories.
- To adhere to the legal requirement, often referred to as the "No Net Loss Law," jurisdictions are prohibited from making decisions related to zoning, land use, or approving development that would result in fewer housing units than the capacity assumed in the site inventory, unless:
 - Written findings are provided that demonstrate there are still sufficient adequate sites, or
 - A mandatory rezoning takes place within 6 months to ensure there are sufficient sites.

Prior Housing Element Sites

An aerial photograph of a densely populated urban area, likely Los Angeles, showing a mix of multi-story apartment buildings and residential structures. The scene is bathed in a warm, golden light, suggesting a sunset or sunrise. In the background, a range of mountains is visible under a clear sky. The overall atmosphere is one of a vibrant, established city neighborhood.

By Right Housing Development

Sites used on the prior Housing Element's inventory of sites must be rezoned to allow residential use by right if at least 20% of the units are reserved as affordable for lower income households.

A use by right means:

- Project must be approved if meets objective standards
- No discretionary review (e.g. DIR, CUPs, etc) except subdivisions
- No CEQA

Lower Income Rezoning Sites

Lower Income Rezoning Sites

- Cal. Gov. Code Section 65583.2(h) mandates that if a City cannot identify sufficient sites for its RHNA allocation for lower-income households, it must designate sufficient Lower Income Rezoning Sites.
- Lower Income Rezoning Sites must:
 - Have a minimum density of 20 dwelling units per acre
 - Allow at least 16 dwelling units.
 - Provide a by-right approval process for projects with at least 20% of units set-aside for lower-income households.

3 dwelling units per acre

10 dwelling units per acre
